Promise street widening plans early next year

Attorney Thal reported to the Arlington Heights village board Monday night that before he could get any statement from the Northwestern railroad regarding the widening of Davis street, the company asks not only for definite plans, but counters the request of the village with "what are you going to do for us?"

"When the railroad company donated land for the Northwest highway they were relieved of any special assessment costs for the pavement and probably have the same thing in mind now, stated Mayor Goedke.

The engineering firm of Consoer, Townsend and Associates reported to Paddock Publications Tuesday that all the field work required for the proposed street widening had been completed. The plans are now being drawn and estimates are being prepared. "They should be ready," stated Engineer Lewis, who is in charge of the work, "early in the new year."

Responsibility for the project will then rest upon the Board of Local Improvements, which will call public hearings when interested property owners will have the right to be heard.

The plans include ornamental street lighting to accompany the widening.

Arlington Heights street department is keeping its fingers crossed. Supt. Becker is praying that there is no big snow storm in Arlington Heights until after repairs to his equipment arrive from the east. Manufacturer says that a snow storm in Ohio is holding up shipment.

Scarsdale will have a new outlet over George street when the village takes title to a lot which will permit the extension of this street to Bristol Lane. The municipality gets the lot from an estate for $1050.

With its improvement at some future time access will be provided from the business district over Commercial avenue (Davis street) to the sewage treatment plant, without the use of the underpass now used.

Seniors to present Xmas ball Thursday night

The senior class of Arlington Heights township high school will present "The Christmas Ball" Thursday evening at the high school.

Don John's band will furnish the music for dancing, which will be enjoyed from 9 p. m. to midnight. Admission for couples is $2.50. Stags, $1.75.

First Mt. Prospect robbery in six years nets $35

Mt. Prospect police are still looking for the bold bandit who braved the crime-less bounds of Mt. Prospect last week in the first break-in in six years.

The robbery occurred at Busse's Grocery Wednesday night December 15, and was the first break-in in the village since August, 1942, and only the third in seventeen years.

Police are working on several clues to apprehend the person who pried open a back window of the store and stole approximately $35.00 in the cash register.

Apparently frightened, the burglar tried to escape by breaking the glass in the front door, then turned and fled through the back window, leaving behind bloody hand prints, indicating cuts from the broken glass.

The break-in occurred between 11:40 p. m. and 12:20 a. m., the times at which police checked the doors.

The robbery was discovered by Policeman Andy Kranz as he made his rounds at 12:30 a. m. and he immediately called Busse, owner of the store.

Mumps vs. want-ad as couple looks for flat

A case of mumps played pixie to a reply Mrs. Harry Smith, Arlington Heights, received in regard to her want-ad for a place to live.

"We were delighted when we received 6 calls in reply to our ad," Mrs. Smith stated. "My husband wanted to move closer to the Naval base and when I investigated a flat in Glenview, I thought we had found exactly what we wanted and promised to bring my husband to see the flat in the morning."

"When we returned the following day, one of three children of folks living in the flat at present had contacted a case of mumps. My husband is close to 50 years old and has never had mumps, so of course, we couldn't go in to show him the flat and had to let it slip by.

"However, we did accept another apartment we looked at—but that flat was just what we wanted," Mrs. Smith said.

No overtime for police officers hereafter, village board decrees

While Arlington Heights village board did not officially take any action Monday night in denying overtime to monthly-paid police officers, that was the sentiment expressed. The finance committee will not hereafter automatically give its o.k. to bills for overtime police duty.

Alderman Kehe took the stand that when the village pays a policeman who is ill his regular pay, the officer should work the extra hours at no extra expense to the village.

The meeting was delayed 30 minutes waiting for a quorum. Christmas sales kept Alderman Hartman away, and Alderman Luehring was ill.

Icy roads cause death of Fox River Grove woman

Lucille D. Goerner, 36, Spring Beach Fox River Grove, was instantly killed Saturday night when she was thrown from a car being driven by her husband Richard W. Goerner. The accident occurred on Rand road, south of Dundee road.

Mr. Goerner lost control of his car as it started to skid and hit the car of John D. Mariacher, Wauconda, who with three companions were on their way to Des Plaines.

Mrs. Goerner was taken to Palatine Community hospital by highway police where Dr. Starck pronounced her dead, due to mass traumatic laceration over the lower abdominal regions. Inquest was held Monday morning.

The driver of the second car suffered a broken arm. The other three occupants of the second car received minor injuries.

Deputy sheriffs handling the case were Sam Scervino and George Becker.

Many Christmas parties held at field house

Alfred Blume, superintendent at Arlington Heights field house reports plenty of Christmas atmosphere. Four holiday parties were held there the past week.

Wednesday evening the children of Faith Lutheran church enjoyed a Christmas party. Saturday night teen-agers of Scarsdale entertained Santa Claus and Sunday afternoon the little tots of that area had their special party. Wednesday evening, the children of Stonegate will participate in a similar event.

"Santa is around here but Jack Frost does not seem to know that it is ice skating time," Blume said.

An Airedale is 'Stalin' at Arlington Park

The iron curtain that the Reds have let down in Berlin is not much different than the autocratic rule of an Airedale near the intersection of Princeton and Yale streets, Arlington Heights.

Six neighbors of the owner of the dog appeared before the Arlington Heights village board Monday night and asked for protection from the dog.

In the discussion that followed, Mayor Goedke and members of the board were sympathetic, but were told by Attorney Hugo Thal that they could do little about the matter.

The only regress the neighbors have is a suit for damages caused by the dog. Off-the-record advice given the visitors, was the use of a charge of salt in a shot gun which would probably have more effect on the dog than mere words.

The Airedale is a veteran of World War II and from the training received when in the army will not allow any stranger to approach him.

Don't be left at gate; high school has tickets for DeKalb tournament

Tickets for the first game at the DeKalb holiday tournament are on sale now at Arlington Heights high school office, according to Principal L. J. Knoeppel.

Arlington Heights is scheduled to play Niles in the first game Monday, December 27, at 9 p. m. The 175 tickets on sale are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

According to Coach Wally Grace, persons who want to see the game should get tickets in Arlington. Those who travel to DeKalb without ducats might be disappointed.

Benjamin Electric Xmas party

More than 1200 employees and guests attended Benjamin Electric Manufacturing company's annual employees Christmas party and dance held in the auditorium at St. Mary's training school Saturday night, December 18.

Highlight of the entertainment was the old-time, "Blackface" Minstrel show presented by the Des Plaines Ladies of the Elks. The interlocutor, straight men and members of the cast assumed the names of Hoyt P. Steele, vice-president of Benjamin Electric and of various employees of the company. These names were then worked into the Minstrel show's repertoire of jokes. Elaborate costumes and lively song and dance acts completed the performance.

Des Plaines Ladies of the Elks associated with the Minstrel troupe are Roberta Sheppard, director; Frances Imig, assistant director; Betty Bradley, pianist; Patricia Aasen, Mabel Adkins, Frieda Atkins, Daisy Coffman, Marguerite Grichter, Grace Grodatz, Irene Freisinger, Emily Hoover, Lucille Jirgal, Ann Kalal, Betty Kummerle Marion Kunkel, Betty Lindberg, June Rold, Carroll Seurbom, Merinda Seurbom, Hattie Shanks, Lillian Vildebille, president; Lou Waller, Tansy Walsh and Clare Maravo.

ALSO FEATURED in the entertainment was an audience participation quiz show called "Guess & Give" an all-employee production. Conducted in the fashion of now popular, radio "give-away" shows, contestants were asked questions and required to perform hilarious stunts for the audience. Benjamin employees who were contestants are Marjorie Barber, Frances Boder, Edward Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Helfers, Larry Koch, Mr. and Mrs. John Parmley and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Roeske.

Principals in the cast of "Guess & Give" were J. Alden Goudy, master of ceremonies; Dorothy Bloethner and Robert J. Slominski, assistants, and Ruth Weiss. George Honemann was Santa Claus. Richard Morehart was producer.

Between acts, Alfred Schultz, Benjamin employee and Marvin Gaitsch, instructor at the El Rey Music center in Chicago, played Christmas music on electric accordions.

Betty Lou Gravenkort, Benjamin employee, sang "Star of the East" and "Silent Night" to the piano accompaniment of Kenneth Grom of Barrington.

Realtor-Judge spends Christmas in Florida

Judge C. M. Behrens, Arlington Heights, before whom many state police cases are heard, left Sunday with his family for some place in Florida.

"I had not the heart to inflict fines during the Christmas season," the judge told the reporter as he left his office for the south.

Mr. Behrens will be gone two weeks and even his state police friends do not know where he has gone.

Arlington man aids police in solving murder-rape case

William Millay, 122 So. Highland ave., Arlington Heights, reported to Sgt. John Selle of Morton Grove highway police station Monday that a man accompanied by a girl answering the description of a ten-year-old murdered girl had been served by him about 8 p. m. Friday night at the El Rando cafe, Elmhurst and Rand roads.

A county-wide hunt has been in progress for evidence as to the identity of the persons who kidnaped, raped and strangled Roberta Rinearson, of Hollywood, Friday evening, after 6 p. m., when Roberta had taken a bus to attend a movie in LaGrange.

Her body was found Saturday morning in a ditch off County Line road southeast of Bensenville.

Pictures were drawn and published from the description given by Millay. No arrests have yet been made, but a number of persons taken into custody are being grilled as possible suspects.

Heavy mailing reported by all postmasters

Arlington Heights postal clerks, carriers and extra employees, including the postmaster Virginia Dodge are all wearing smiles this Christmas. There are over twenty extra employees this year so there are a lot of smiles. All previous records of Christmas mailing are being broken but due to early mailing and cooperation of patrons (they also have smiles, says Mrs. Dodge) the postal machinery is moving smoothly.

One clerk does nothing except operate the stamp cancelling machine and it seems that her job is endless. The heaviest mailing by local patrons was 43,500 on Monday, while Saturday it was 32,700.

Unable to find special quarters for incoming parcel post mail, the working quarters are jammed, but employees in each department are doing their particular jobs so well that there is no delay in mail dispatch and local delivery is being expediously handled.

The new mail truck which arrived in November has speeded up the handling of parcel post matter. "Do not forget to say thank you to the weather man" chimed in a heavily loaded mail carrier who was leaving the postoffice at the same time as the reporter.

Fire chief asks elimination of Yule hazards

Fire Chief Elroy J. Winkelman of Arlington Heights, warned that flammable Christmas decorations introduce a needless fire hazard during the current holiday season, and asked local citizens to avoid the possibility of turning the cheerful Yuletide period into a time of grief and tragedy.

"Many of the tragic holiday fires of the past were caused by the use of flammable decorations," he said. "A few years ago ninety-nine people were killed at a Christmas party in St. Johns, Newfoundland, as a result of this dangerous practice."

Non-flammable decorations of glass or metal are available, and "fireproof" snow should be used around the Christmas tree. It is dangerous to use paper or cotton in decorating the tree.

Decorations should never be used near chairs or other places where people may smoke, and plenty of ash trays should be placed around the houes during the holiday season, as always. It is preferable to put decorations up near the ceiling, well above the head of anyone standing up.

Candles should not be used as part of the Yuletide decorations. Curtains and other flammable materials should be pulled back at least six inches from any electric light.

Kiwanians seek names of needy families

Police Chief Skoog has asked the help of readers of Paddock Publications in locating families who will either have a meager or no Christmas at all. The police department will turn the names over to Arlington Heights Kiwanis club.

"We want the Christmas spirit to enter every Arlington Heights home," says Skoog, chairman of Youth Activity of the club.

"The merchants have been liberal in subscribing to the decorating and music fund and aid to needy families also is part of the program."

The names of two business houses who were among the first to contribute to the fund were omitted from list published last week. They are Arling on Packing Co. and Turf Billiards.

Blood transfusions fail to save life of child

Accidental death was the verdict of a coroner's jury Monday morning in the inquest into the death of Jackie Richards, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richards, N. State road, Arlington Heights.

The boy's death was due to second degree burns over 40 per cent of his body, according to a report of Coroner's Physician Harry Leon.

He died at 11 a. m. Sunday, December 19, at Children's Memorial hospital, Chicago, where he had been a patient since December 2. Death was the result of internal hemorrhage and intestinal ulcers caused by the burns.

"We want to thank the 10 or 12 people who donated blood for Jackie at the hospital," Mr. and Mrs. Richards stated. The child died despite the fact that he received 9 quarts of blood transfusions from local citizens during his 18-day stay at the hospital.

JACKIE WAS burned November 27 at 7:40 a. m. The father told Coroner Edward Edelstein the boy apparently awoke while the rest of the family was asleep, went into the living room and picked up a book of matches. He lit one, which ignited his pajamas, and he ran screaming into his sister Nancy's room.

Nancy called for her parents and rushed the boy to the bathroom, where she tried to stop the flames. The father finally put out the flames by wrapping the boy in a bath mat. All his pajamas had been burned off except about the shoulders and ankles.

Jackie was taken to Northwestern hospital on Dr. E. A. Elfeld's orders, but was released the same day. Officials explained he could get more efficient first aid treatment at home because of a shortage of nurses at the hospital. Thursday, December 2, at 9 a. m. the boy went into a coma and was rushed to Children's Memorial hospital.

IN ADDITION to the parents, other survivors include five Richards children, Howard E. Jr., 18, Joyce Marilyn, 17, Nancy, 11, Darlene, 7 and Danny 5.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon from Lauterburg and Oehler funeral home and at 2 p. m. from St. John Evangelical church with Rev. Wm. Kamphenkel officiating. Burial will be at Ridgewood cemetery.

Jurors included Mike Oefelein 512 W. Campbell, Ross Davis, 307 W. Wing, V. J. McDougall, 2 S. Vail, Wm. Schoepke, 28 S. Vail, Pervy Hertel, 316 W. Campbell, and Carlie Gadth, 28 S. Dunton.

Arlington National bank successful bidder for $17,000 fire bonds

Arlington Heights National bank's offer of a premium of $411 for the $17,000 fire equipment bonds was accepted by the village board Monday evening. The bonds bear 3% interest, the last of which is due in 1959.

The bonds were authorized in 1947, but failure of fire department members to agree as to the kind of equipment they wanted delayed actual purchase one year.

A Chicago bond firm with a much lower offer was the only competitor for the bonds Monday evening. Its representative, on hearing the bid of the bank, advised the village to accept it.

Stranger rescues 81-year-old resident after fall on ice

The good deed of a stranger Sunday morning may very likely have been the episode that saved further injury to an 81-year-old resident who fell on an icy pavement.

John Schoenbeck, long-time Arlington resident, left his home at 16 E. Euclid at 10 a.m. last Sunday to buy the Sunday papers. At the corner of Evergreen and St. James streets, he slipped on the ice and fell.

A passerby picked him up and brought him home and he was put to bed. Monday morning Mr. Schoenbeck was taken to St. Francis hospital, Evanston, for X-rays.

"He still is in the hospital," a member of his family reported Tuesday, "but there are no broken bones and he will be home soon."

"We certainly want to thank the stranger who stopped long enough to help Mr. Schoenbeck get home after his fall."

Mt. Prospect has water famine

Residents of Mt. Prospect suffered a three day water shortage over the week end, due to mechanical breakdown at the bottom of the pump on the main well. Although the motor continued to operate, no water was being raised. Upon removing the pump it was found eight bolts had sheared off on the joint of the impellors, located 300 feet below ground.

Two crews from Miller Artesian Well company, plus village employees, worked around the clock to repair the damage, and the well was back in operation Monday morning.

During the period the number three well was out of order, the two old wells operated at capacity, but could not begin to supply the town's demand. The board of trustees are at this time working on plans for the proposed number four well, so the village will be assured of adequate water supply at all times.

Choral members sing at vets Xmas party

The vocal chorus of Arlington Heights high school was one of 10 area groups which entertained at a Christmas party for veterans Wednesday night.

The sixty choral members, dressed in their new red and white robes, sang at the Civic Opera building at the invitation of a metropolitan daily.

The group's first appearance in the recently-purchased robes occurred Tuesday night when the chorus and the school band gave a combined concert at the high school auditorium.

Pipe explosion brings Mt. Prospect firemen

A fire last Saturday afternoon at C. & P. Dog Food company, on State road between Central and Route 58, was caused by an overheated pipe on the steam boiler which controls the pressure cookers.

Main damage was to the rafters which caught fire. The company is continuing to do business while repairs are being made. Mt. Prospect rural fire truck and tanker responded to the call.

Des Plaines man fatally struck by auto after fall on icy road

A Des Plaines man was killed Sunday night as he walked west against traffic on Dempster st. near Cumberland road and was struck by an automobile being driven east by Harold Vaughn, 27, of 203 S. Greenwood avenue, Palatine.

The dead pedestrian was Marlon M. Duke, 46, of 134 Stoelting avenue, Des Plaines, a landscape gardener.

Morton Grove police stated that Duke apparently had slipped and fallen on the icy pavement before Vaughn's auto struck him.

Liquor license revocation closes gambling den

President William N. Erickson of Cook county board last week revoked the liquor license of the Ballard Inn, at Ballard and Potter roads, in Maine township.

The action followed a recommendation from Cook county Sheriff Elmer Michael Walsh, based on "repeated gambling violations" reported at the tavern, reportedly operated by George Schultz.

President Erickson is empowered with the issuance and revocation of liquor licenses in all unincorporated areas of Cook county. Last week's action was his second cancellation in recent weeks.

Palatine man resigns after two years as assistant county sheriff

Cook county's assistant Sheriff Alfred J. Borah, who makes his home in Palatine, has handed in his resignation.

The decision to give up the Sheriff's star was prompted by a desire to return to private business as insurance broker and president of the Climate Control corporation, an air conditioning firm, at 205 West Wacker drive.

Sheriff Elmer Michael Walsh, who took Borah in as his "next-in-line" man when he took office in December, 1946, accepted the assistant's resignation "with regret."

Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert V. Becker is next in line at present to take over Borah's spot, but Walsh declined to indicate who would get the $7,920-a-year job.

Borah, who was former chairman of the Illinois Industrial commission, has agreed to remain on the job until his successor is selected. It is expected Walsh will name another man shortly after the first of the year.

Christmas day masses at St. James Catholic church will be held at 7, 8, 9, 10:30 and 11:30 a. m.

METHODIST CHURCH

The congregation of the Methodist church, with Rev. Milo Vondracek officiating, will attend a service at 11 p. m. Friday, December 24. It will be a Midnight Christmas eve service.

"One Holy Night," a church school Christmas program, will be presented Friday, December 24, at 7:30 p. m. by children of St. John Ev. and Ref. church school. At 11:30 p. m. the senior youth fellowship will sponsor a candlelight holy communion service, with the entire congregation invited to attend, according to Rev. Wm. Kamphenkel.

ST. JOHN EPISCOPAL

Christmas eve at 5 p. m. children of St. John Episcopal church school will present a Christmas pageant, written by Mr. and Mrs. D. Sanford Duncombe and directed by Mrs. Robert Geddes.

ST. JOHN EV. & REF.

"One Holy Night" will be presented as a Christmas program by church school children of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, Friday, December 24, at 7:30 p. m.

At 11:30 that evening, the Senior youth fellowship will sponsor a candlelight holy communion service to which the entire congregation is invited.

A Christmas holy communion service will be held the Sunday after Christmas at 10:30 a. m. Church school will be at 9:15 a. m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

A Christmas pageant will be presented December 24 at 7 p. m. at Arlington Heights Presbyterian church gymnasium with Rev. Victor Brown as narrator. The tableau will be presented by the high school Tuxis and music will be provided by the choir.

ST. PETER LUTHERAN

Christmas services at St. Peter Lutheran church start Wednesday, December 22, when the children of both Sunday schools will present a service of Christmas carols and recitations following a formal program entitled "Sing We All Noel."

Christmas eve the pupils will gather at 6 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. for the traditional children's services. The program directed by A. Kramer, will be "Christmas Joy." Children from letters M to Z will present the first service at 6 p. m. and those from letters A to L at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Wm. R. Miessler of Melrose Park will deliver the two Christmas day sermons at 9:15 a. m. and 10:45 a. m.

Sunday, December 26, Rev. Stephan will preach on "We Beheld His Glory" in both the 9:15 a. m. and 10:45 a. m. services. There also will be a Christmas song service at the Old Folks home at 3 p. m.

Benjamin Electric Xmas party

More than 1200 employees and guests attended Benjamin Electric Manufacturing company's annual employees Christmas party and dance held in the auditorium at St. Mary's training school Saturday night, December 18.

Highlight of the entertainment was the old-time, "Blackface" Minstrel show presented by the Des Plaines Ladies of the Elks. The interlocutor, straight men and members of the cast assumed the names of Hoyt P. Steele, vice-president of Benjamin Electric and of various employees of the company. These names were then worked into the Minstrel show's repertoire of jokes. Elaborate costumes and lively song and dance acts completed the performance.

Des Plaines Ladies of the Elks associated with the Minstrel troupe are Roberta Sheppard, director; Frances Imig, assistant director; Betty Bradley, pianist; Patricia Aasen, Mabel Adkins, Frieda Atkins, Daisy Coffman, Marguerite Grichter, Grace Grodatz, Irene Freisinger, Emily Hoover, Lucille Jirgal, Ann Kalal, Betty Kummerle Marion Kunkel, Betty Lindberg, June Rold, Carroll Seurbom, Merinda Seurbom, Hattie Shanks, Lillian Vildebille, president; Lou Waller, Tansy Walsh and Clare Maravo.

ALSO FEATURED in the entertainment was an audience participation quiz show called "Guess & Give" an all-employee production. Conducted in the fashion of now popular, radio "give-away" shows, contestants were asked questions and required to perform hilarious stunts for the audience. Benjamin employees who were contestants are Marjorie Barber, Frances Boder, Edward Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Helfers, Larry Koch, Mr. and Mrs. John Parmley and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Roeske.

Principals in the cast of "Guess & Give" were J. Alden Goudy, master of ceremonies; Dorothy Bloethner and Robert J. Slominski, assistants, and Ruth Weiss. George Honemann was Santa Claus. Richard Morehart was producer.

Between acts, Alfred Schultz, Benjamin employee and Marvin Gaitsch, instructor at the El Rey Music center in Chicago, played Christmas music on electric accordions.

Betty Lou Gravenkort, Benjamin employee, sang "Star of the East" and "Silent Night" to the piano accompaniment of Kenneth Grom of Barrington.

Realtor-Judge spends Christmas in Florida

Judge C. M. Behrens, Arlington Heights, before whom many state police cases are heard, left Sunday with his family for some place in Florida.

"I had not the heart to inflict fines during the Christmas season," the judge told the reporter as he left his office for the south.

Mr. Behrens will be gone two weeks and even his state police friends do not know where he has gone.

Arlington man aids police in solving murder-rape case

William Millay, 122 So. Highland ave., Arlington Heights, reported to Sgt. John Selle of Morton Grove highway police station Monday that a man accompanied by a girl answering the description of a ten-year-old murdered girl had been served by him about 8 p. m. Friday night at the El Rando cafe, Elmhurst and Rand roads.

A county-wide hunt has been in progress for evidence as to the identity of the persons who kidnaped, raped and strangled Roberta Rinearson, of Hollywood, Friday evening, after 6 p. m., when Roberta had taken a bus to attend a movie in LaGrange.

Her body was found Saturday morning in a ditch off County Line road southeast of Bensenville.

Pictures were drawn and published from the description given by Millay. No arrests have yet been made, but a number of persons taken into custody are being grilled as possible suspects.

Heavy mailing reported by all postmasters

Arlington Heights postal clerks, carriers and extra employees, including the postmaster Virginia Dodge are all wearing smiles this Christmas. There are over twenty extra employees this year so there are a lot of smiles. All previous records of Christmas mailing are being broken but due to early mailing and cooperation of patrons (they also have smiles, says Mrs. Dodge) the postal machinery is moving smoothly.

One clerk does nothing except operate the stamp cancelling machine and it seems that her job is endless. The heaviest mailing by local patrons was 43,500 on Monday, while Saturday it was 32,700.

Unable to find special quarters for incoming parcel post mail, the working quarters are jammed, but employees in each department are doing their particular jobs so well that there is no delay in mail dispatch and local delivery is being expediously handled.

The new mail truck which arrived in November has speeded up the handling of parcel post matter. "Do not forget to say thank you to the weather man" chimed in a heavily loaded mail carrier who was leaving the postoffice at the same time as the reporter.

Fire chief asks elimination of Yule hazards

Fire Chief Elroy J. Winkelman of Arlington Heights, warned that flammable Christmas decorations introduce a needless fire hazard during the current holiday season, and asked local citizens to avoid the possibility of turning the cheerful Yuletide period into a time of grief and tragedy.

"Many of the tragic holiday fires of the past were caused by the use of flammable decorations," he said. "A few years ago ninety-nine people were killed at a Christmas party in St. Johns, Newfoundland, as a result of this dangerous practice."

Non-flammable decorations of glass or metal are available, and "fireproof" snow should be used around the Christmas tree. It is dangerous to use paper or cotton in decorating the tree.

Decorations should never be used near chairs or other places where people may smoke, and plenty of ash trays should be placed around the houes during the holiday season, as always. It is preferable to put decorations up near the ceiling, well above the head of anyone standing up.

Candles should not be used as part of the Yuletide decorations. Curtains and other flammable materials should be pulled back at least six inches from any electric light.

Kiwanians seek names of needy families

Police Chief Skoog has asked the help of readers of Paddock Publications in locating families who will either have a meager or no Christmas at all. The police department will turn the names over to Arlington Heights Kiwanis club.

"We want the Christmas spirit to enter every Arlington Heights home," says Skoog, chairman of Youth Activity of the club.

"The merchants have been liberal in subscribing to the decorating and music fund and aid to needy families also is part of the program."

The names of two business houses who were among the first to contribute to the fund were omitted from list published last week. They are Arlington Packing Co. and Turf Billiards.

Blood transfusions fail to save life of child

Accidental death was the verdict of a coroner's jury Monday morning in the inquest into the death of Jackie Richards, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richards, N. State road, Arlington Heights.

The boy's death was due to second degree burns over 40 per cent of his body, according to a report of Coroner's Physician Harry Leon.

He died at 11 a. m. Sunday, December 19, at Children's Memorial hospital, Chicago, where he had been a patient since December 2. Death was the result of internal hemorrhage and intestinal ulcers caused by the burns.

"We want to thank the 10 or 12 people who donated blood for Jackie at the hospital," Mr. and Mrs. Richards stated. The child died despite the fact that he received 9 quarts of blood transfusions from local citizens during his 18-day stay at the hospital.

JACKIE WAS burned November 27 at 7:40 a. m. The father told Coroner Edward Edelstein the boy apparently awoke while the rest of the family was asleep, went into the living room and picked up a book of matches. He lit one, which ignited his pajamas, and he ran screaming into his sister Nancy's room.

Nancy called for her parents and rushed the boy to the bathroom, where she tried to stop the flames. The father finally put out the flames by wrapping the boy in a bath mat. All his pajamas had been burned off except about the shoulders and ankles.

Jackie was taken to Northwestern hospital on Dr. E. A. Elfeld's orders, but was released the same day. Officials explained he could get more efficient first aid treatment at home because of a shortage of nurses at the hospital. Thursday, December 2, at 9 a. m. the boy went into a coma and was rushed to Children's Memorial hospital.

IN ADDITION to the parents, other survivors include five Richards children, Howard E. Jr., 18, Joyce Marilyn, 17, Nancy, 11, Darlene, 7 and Danny 5.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon from Lauterburg and Oehler funeral home and at 2 p. m. from St. John Evangelical church with Rev. Wm. Kamphenkel officiating. Burial will be at Ridgewood cemetery.

Jurors included Mike Oefelein 512 W. Campbell, Ross Davis, 307 W. Wing, V. J. McDougall, 2 S. Vail, Wm. Schoepke, 28 S. Vail, Pervy Hertel, 316 W. Campbell, and Carlie Gadth, 28 S. Dunton.

Arlington National bank successful bidder for $17,000 fire bonds

Arlington Heights National bank's offer of a premium of $411 for the $17,000 fire equipment bonds was accepted by the village board Monday evening. The bonds bear 3% interest, the last of which is due in 1959.

The bonds were authorized in 1947, but failure of fire department members to agree as to the kind of equipment they wanted delayed actual purchase one year.

A Chicago bond firm with a much lower offer was the only competitor for the bonds Monday evening. Its representative, on hearing the bid of the bank, advised the village to accept it.

Stranger rescues 81-year-old resident after fall on ice

The good deed of a stranger Sunday morning may very likely have been the episode that saved further injury to an 81-year-old resident who fell on an icy pavement.

John Schoenbeck, long-time Arlington resident, left his home at 16 E. Euclid at 10 a.m. last Sunday to buy the Sunday papers. At the corner of Evergreen and St. James streets, he slipped on the ice and fell.

A passerby picked him up and brought him home and he was put to bed. Monday morning Mr. Schoenbeck was taken to St. Francis hospital, Evanston, for X-rays.

"He still is in the hospital," a member of his family reported Tuesday, "but there are no broken bones and he will be home soon."

"We certainly want to thank the stranger who stopped long enough to help Mr. Schoenbeck get home after his fall."

Mt. Prospect has water famine

Residents of Mt. Prospect suffered a three day water shortage over the week end, due to mechanical breakdown at the bottom of the pump on the main well. Although the motor continued to operate, no water was being raised. Upon removing the pump it was found eight bolts had sheared off on the joint of the impellors, located 300 feet below ground.

Two crews from Miller Artesian Well company, plus village employees, worked around the clock to repair the damage, and the well was back in operation Monday morning.

During the period the number three well was out of order, the two old wells operated at capacity, but could not begin to supply the town's demand. The board of trustees are at this time working on plans for the proposed number four well, so the village will be assured of adequate water supply at all times.

Choral members sing at vets Xmas party

The vocal chorus of Arlington Heights high school was one of 10 area groups which entertained at a Christmas party for veterans Wednesday night.

The sixty choral members, dressed in their new red and white robes, sang at the Civic Opera building at the invitation of a metropolitan daily.

The group's first appearance in the recently-purchased robes occurred Tuesday night when the chorus and the school band gave a combined concert at the high school auditorium.

Pipe explosion brings Mt. Prospect firemen

A fire last Saturday afternoon at C. & P. Dog Food company, on State road between Central and Route 58, was caused by an overheated pipe on the steam boiler which controls the pressure cookers.

Main damage was to the rafters which caught fire. The company is continuing to do business while repairs are being made. Mt. Prospect rural fire truck and tanker responded to the call.

Des Plaines man fatally struck by auto after fall on icy road

A Des Plaines man was killed Sunday night as he walked west against traffic on Dempster st. near Cumberland road and was struck by an automobile being driven east by Harold Vaughn, 27, of 203 S. Greenwood avenue, Palatine.

The dead pedestrian was Marlon M. Duke, 46, of 134 Stoelting avenue, Des Plaines, a landscape gardener.

Morton Grove police stated that Duke apparently had slipped and fallen on the icy pavement before Vaughn's auto struck him.

Liquor license revocation closes gambling den

President William N. Erickson of Cook county board last week revoked the liquor license of the Ballard Inn, at Ballard and Potter roads, in Maine township.

The action followed a recommendation from Cook county Sheriff Elmer Michael Walsh, based on "repeated gambling violations" reported at the tavern, reportedly operated by George Schultz.

President Erickson is empowered with the issuance and revocation of liquor licenses in all unincorporated areas of Cook county. Last week's action was his second cancellation in recent weeks.

Palatine man resigns after two years as assistant county sheriff

Cook county's assistant Sheriff Alfred J. Borah, who makes his home in Palatine, has handed in his resignation.

The decision to give up the Sheriff's star was prompted by a desire to return to private business as insurance broker and president of the Climate Control corporation, an air conditioning firm, at 205 West Wacker drive.

Sheriff Elmer Michael Walsh, who took Borah in as his "next-in-line" man when he took office in December, 1946, accepted the assistant's resignation "with regret."

Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert V. Becker is next in line at present to take over Borah's spot, but Walsh declined to indicate who would get the $7,920-a-year job.

Borah, who was former chairman of the Illinois Industrial commission, has agreed to remain on the job until his successor is selected. It is expected Walsh will name another man shortly after the first of the year.

Zany league bowls again at Arlington

At Arlington Bowling Lanes again this year the Rainbow Mixed Bowling League is rolling the spheres. This is the 8th year of this most unorthodox bowling league. They meet every 2nd Friday at 9 p. m. when Rule No. 1 of their constitution is very carefully observed. Rule No. 1 is "Have a lot of fun" and that's exactly what they do.

They have some very good bowlers and some that are not good at all. But it makes no difference in this Zany Rainbow Mixed League. The league is composed of men and women of Arlington Heights. So great, however, is the fame of the Rainbow Mixed League that this year amongst regulars and alternates are couples from Long Grove, Libertyville and Glen Ellyn.

League is comprised of 6 teams with the usual 5 players on each. The Blue, Green and Orange teams each have 3 men and 2 women. The Red, Yellow and Purple have 2 men and 3 women. In assigning players to teams, husbands and wives are carefully separated. Thus everybody has a better chance to get acquainted and there are no minor (or major) family feuds.

This year's officers are Nat Burfeind, president; Bill Barkhausen, vice president; Webb Hartman, secretary; Bill Bott, sergeant-at-arms, and Paul Neuses, treasurer.

Shoals of Shrimp

Shrimp in the Gulf of Mexico are at times so plentiful that the sound of the echo depth machine on a ship fails to act the way it should. The hydrographic office of the navy reports that Capt. W. N. Dawson of the British motor vessel British Virtue on two voyages between Galveston and Corpus Christi found that the device measuring sound echoes did not register when 10 to 15 miles off the coast, where charts showed the depth to be about 11 fathoms. Large quantities of shrimp were found in that locality.

'No dice' says sheriff to question of gambling on DuPage trains

Just a tip from Wheaton: Cut out playing the friendly game of pitch with the usual nickel set-up and 10 cents a game while passing through DuPage county on our suburban trains, or don't be surprised if a sheriff should get on the train and "pull you in."

Bond sales up

November E Bond sales in Illinois again showed an upward trend and were nearly 12% higher than a year ago, Arnold J. Rauen, State Director of the Treasury's U. S. Savings Bonds Division reported.

Total sales in the state for the month were $37,684,025, which included $1,940,021 Series F, $8,597,900 Series G and $27,146,104 Series E. Annual sales are running well ahead of 1947, and it is expected that Illinois will this year mark up a new high record for the peacetime program.

Jewel sales set new records

Jewel Tea Co., Inc. reports that retail sales of $13,225,028 for the four weeks ended December 4, 1948 were the highest for any four week period in the company's history. This is a gain of $1,970,138 or 17.5% over like weeks of a year ago.

Retail sales for the forty-eight weeks ended December 4, 1948 were $140,642,118, a gain of $23,766,525 or 20.3% over last year.

Beginning of "Junket"

Name "junket" had its origin in the olden days in England, when men would go on pleasure trips to London at the expense of the public. These trips were called "junkets", and a great delicacy known as junket, or curds and whey, was always eaten.

Create park planning group to study Lombard setup

Creation of a new Park Planning commission of five members who will serve without compensation as an advisory body to the commissioners of the Lombard park district was effected by a resolution unanimously adopted by the park board at its December meeting.

Setting up of the new body climaxed many months of study and discussion on how best to lead and interpret the wishes of Lombard people with respect to a forward looking park and recreation plan in the growing community.

Preservation of Wood

Wood that touches moist earth, or wood that becomes wet and cannot dry out quickly sooner or later will rot away. Outstanding wood preservatives to consider for use around the home, farm or small boat include metallic naphthenates, chlorinated phenols, and organic mercurials for special purposes. Other wood preservatives, such as creosote, zinc chloride, chromated zinc chloride and numerous proprietary formulas, have been widely used. The newer types of preservatives are not so well known to the public.

Itasca post office to start auto delivery service

Postal Inspector Henry Dement inspected the post office at Itasca last Friday and found everything in order.

He authorized Carrier Goeddeke to use either automobile or horses, which ever is more expeditous in delivering the mail.

'No dice' says sheriff to question of gambling on DuPage trains

Just a tip from Wheaton:

Cut out playing the friendly game of pitch with the usual nickel set-up and 10 cents a game while passing through DuPage county on our suburban trains, or don't be surprised if a sheriff should get on the train and "pull you in."

Henry L. Meyer renews Cook Co. Herald subscription 10th year

Mr. Henry L. Meyer Sr., a highly respected retired farmer who with his wife enjoy themselves in their comfortable village home surrounded by many relatives and friends, came in December 2 to renew his subscription to the Cook County Herald.

This is the tenth year he has been one of the esteemed names on our Gilt-edged list. His four brothers, John, William, Fred and George Meyer, and five sons Henry, William, Fred, George and John Meyer, all successful farmers, also take the Herald and pay for it promptly, ten in all.

The only larger family on our list that we know of is the Schoenbecks, of whom we have 7 brothers and 4 sisters on our Gilt-edged list.

Bond sales up

November E Bond sales in Illinois again showed an upward trend and were nearly 12% higher than a year ago, Arnold J. Rauen, State Director of the Treasury's U. S. Savings Bonds Division reported.

Total sales in the state for the month were $37,684,025, which included $1,940,021 Series F, $8,597,900 Series G and $27,146,104 Series E. Annual sales are running well ahead of 1947, and it is expected that Illinois will this year mark up a new high record for the peacetime program.

Jewel sales set new records

Jewel Tea Co., Inc. reports that retail sales of $13,225,028 for the four weeks ended December 4, 1948 were the highest for any four week period in the company's history. This is a gain of $1,970,138 or 17.5% over like weeks of a year ago.

Retail sales for the forty-eight weeks ended December 4, 1948 were $140,642,118, a gain of $23,766,525 or 20.3% over last year.

Beginning of "Junket"

Name "junket" had its origin in the olden days in England, when men would go on pleasure trips to London at the expense of the public. These trips were called "junkets", and a great delicacy known as junket, or curds and whey, was always eaten.

Create park planning group to study Lombard setup

Creation of a new Park Planning commission of five members who will serve without compensation as an advisory body to the commissioners of the Lombard park district was effected by a resolution unanimously adopted by the park board at its December meeting.

Setting up of the new body climaxed many months of study and discussion on how best to lead and interpret the wishes of Lombard people with respect to a forward looking park and recreation plan in the growing community.

Preservation of Wood

Wood that touches moist earth, or wood that becomes wet and cannot dry out quickly sooner or later will rot away. Outstanding wood preservatives to consider for use around the home, farm or small boat include metallic naphthenates, chlorinated phenols, and organic mercurials for special purposes. Other wood preservatives, such as creosote, zinc chloride, chromated zinc chloride and numerous proprietary formulas, have been widely used. The newer types of preservatives are not so well known to the public.

Seven Grade School Youths Get Into Trouble

Two eight year old Bensenville boys have been bound over to county court on the charge of shoplifting. There has been a wave of shoplifting in this town. In police court last Friday, these two youngsters admitted to Judge Mears that they were guilty of stealing $8.40 worth of goods from Laho's Hardware store.

ANOTHER CASE of prankish conduct on the part of five Bensenville boys of grade school age which resulted in property damage was disclosed by the police department this week. These youngsters, it is said, late Sunday night, took 50 bulbs from the community Christmas tree on Center st., and broke them against the cars of a passing train. The butts of the bulbs were found along the railroad tracks.

They all confessed, on being confronted with the charge, and at a hearing Monday night, it was reported that parents had agreed to make restitution of the loss. These boys were not arrested.

IT IS A GREAT problem to the police, storekeepers, and the courts when children as young as this cannot tell right from wrong, it is said. Who is to blame in these situations, parents, schools, movies, or bad companions? Everyone would like to know.

New stamp honors 300th anniversary of volunteer firemen

The 300th anniversary of organized volunteer fire service in the United States was observed this week by the federal government by the issuance of a postage stamp.

The new stamp commemorates the appointment of the first fire wardens by Peter Stuyvesant of New Amsterdam in 1648. The postage stamp honors firemen's unselfish public service, courage, and devotion to duty.

Volunteer fire chiefs of this area spoke for all volunteer firemen in the United States.

"We volunteer firemen are grateful for the honor and recognition given us by the federal government by means of a commemorative postage stamp and by the citizens of our communities.

"The stamp will travel and be seen by millions of people throughout the world. Although the words will not be visible on the stamp, we volunteer firemen want it, nevertheless, to carry this message. We are free citizens in a great and free country. As such, we have pledged ourselves to render service to our citizens, communities and nation.

"We will do so surely and unselfishly. We will ever strive in the true spirit of free Americans to perform faithfully and fully the duties which we have undertaken for ourselves."

MARGUERITE CASE

Marguerite Case, of Palatine, is the sole heir to the $16,500 estate left by her uncle, August Ewert, of Chicago, who died December 1 without leaving a will.

Vivian Moehling wed in candlelight ceremony

Miss Vivian Moehling, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John P. Moehling of Mt. Prospect and Mr. Gerald English, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas English of Sioux City, Iowa were married in a candlelight ceremony at 8 p. m. Sunday. The wedding was held at St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran church in Mt. Prospect with Rev. J. E. A. Mueller performing the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with potted plants of poinsettias.

"Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Mrs. Melvin Laseke during the service. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, John P. Moehling Jr.

Miss Moehling chose to wear a gown of white slipper satin with a round neck edged with pearls, long sleeves and a long train. The gown had a bustle effect at the back and she also wore a finger tip veil with a tulle and beaded crown. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, gift of the groom. White roses and ivy formed her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Charles Francek, sister of the bride and chosen as the matron of honor, was gowned in a cranberry velveteen dress with round neck and full skirt with tight fitting wasp waist. She had matching long gloves and carried a bouquet of red carnations and holly and wore a crescent of carnations in her hair. She also wore a rhinestone necklace, gift of the bride.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Clifford Dyrad, sister of the groom, Mrs. Ralph Cooper, friend of the bride, and Miss Mildred Johnson, former roommate of the bride. They were gowned in emerald green velveteen gowns, similar to the gown of the matron of honor. They carried flowers like the matron of honor's and wore rhinestone necklaces, gifts of the bride.

The ring bearer, Master Darryl Bufford, nephew of the bride, was dressed in a miniature tuxedo and carried the rings on a heart shaped pillow. The little flower girl, Janet Sternberg, was gowned identical to the matron of honor in a long dress of coral berry velveteen. She also carried a bouquet of carnations and holly and had a crescent of carnations in her hair.

Best man for the groom was Clifford Dyrad of Storm Lake, Iowa. Harold Ireland of Fairfield, Iowa, Richard Graff, also of Iowa, and Robert Lighton, of Chicago, acted as ushers. Each was attired in formal clothes and wore white carnation boutonnieres.

Mrs. A. L. Bufford, sister of the bride, chose a lavender, blue crepe dinner dress, while the groom's mother, Mrs. Thomas English, chose a grey dinner dress. Both wore orchids.

A reception was held at Mt. Prospect Country club. Following the reception the couple left for a two week honeymoon to Excelsior Springs, Mo. Upon their return, Mrs. English will resume her position as head dietician of Clarinda State hospital, Clarinda, Iowa and Mr. English will finish his education at Iowa State college, where he will graduate in June, 1949 with B. S. degrees in both General and Mechanical Engineering.

Three Injured In 3-Way Accident At York And Grand

Three cars were involved in an accident at the intersection of York and Grand ave., south of Bensenville, Wednesday afternoon about 1 o'clock. A car driven by Otto Hladek, 63, of 6021 S. Campbell ave., Chicago, failed to stop at York rd. and ran into the car driven by Robert Zinzer, 29, of Bensenville. Zinzer's car was thrown against another, going north on York, driven by Kenneth Schram, 17, of Schiller Park.

MR. ZINZER was taking two of his wife's guests to Elmhurst following a luncheon at the Ebert home, where Mr. and Mrs. Zinser live. They were Martha McGlynn Magerguth and Patricia Bryce, both of Bensenville, who were bruised and cut. Young Schram's passenger was Rev. Frederick W. Ringe, of Franklin Park, who was also shaken up in the crash. The two young ladies and Rev. Ringe were given emergency treatment at Memorial hospital, and then released. None of the three drivers were injured.

THIS IS A dangerous corner, where numerous serious as well as minor accidents have occurred, and stop lights are becoming a necessary precaution, it is said.

TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Just for the fun of it, get a pencil and paper and see if you can write fifty-five billion, two hundred million dollars in figures. That's what government—federal, state and local—cost the American people last year. Even if you end up with the right number of zeroes, it is such a tremendous sum of money that it is almost impossible to realize how tremendous it is.

It means that federal, state and local government cost $385 for every man, woman and child in the United States, based on an estimated population of 143 million. Put another way, it means that every second of every hour of ever day in the year $1,750 rolled into federal, state and local government treasuries.

How much of this tremendous bill for government did you pay?

You know, of course, how much you paid in federal income taxes. You may have a rough idea of how much you paid to the state in sales tax. You know how much you paid for licenses. If you own property, you know how much you paid in local property taxes. You may even have a rough idea how much you paid directly in federal and state taxes when you bought any electrical appliances, cosmetics, jewelry, cigarettes, gasoline and oil, and when you paid your electric and telephone bills.

But the total of all of those taxes represents only part of the total taxes collected — and not the major part either. Who paid the rest of the bill?

In the December issue of The American Magazine there is an article, "502 Taxes on a Pair of Shoes," which gives the answer.

When you buy a pair of shoes, there are 502 taxes on the leather alone, as follows:

	Fed. Tax.	Ste. Tax.	Loc. Tax.	Tot. Tax.
Cattle Rancher	35	20	10	65
Feed Lot Oper.	35	24	11	70
Slaughterhouse	35	19	9	63
Raw Stock Deal.	35	16	13	64
Tannery	35	16	13	64
Manufacturer	35	16	18	69
Wholesaler	35	16	6	57
Retailer	35	9	6	50
Grand Totals	280	136	86	502

There are at least 189 taxes on a suit of clothes, 125 taxes on a cotton dress, 53 taxes on a loaf of bread, 127 on a roast of beef, 154 taxes on a cake of soap, 201 taxes on a gallon of gasoline, and 205 taxes on a new car.

* * *

"Of course, each tax paid by a manufacturer is automatically added to the selling price to the retailer, who, in turn, marks up his selling price on top of the taxes, as well as the manufacturer's cost," the magazine article states.

Who pays for the cost of government? You do, not only through income taxes, property taxes, sales taxes, gasoline taxes, excise taxes, luxury taxes, licenses and all of the other direct and indirect taxes you pay, but also you pay taxes for the cost of government in the high price of everything that you buy.

This article should be on the "must" reading list of everyone.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Clifford Dyrad, sister of the groom, Mrs. Ralph Cooper, friend of the bride, and Miss Mildred Johnson, former roommate of the bride. They were gowned in emerald green velveteen gowns, similar to the gown of the matron of honor. They carried flowers like the matron of honor's and wore rhinestone necklaces, gifts of the bride.

The ring bearer, Master Darryl Bufford, nephew of the bride, was dressed in a miniature tuxedo and carried the rings on a heart shaped pillow. The little flower girl, Janet Sternberg, was gowned identical to the matron of honor in a long dress of coral berry velveteen. She also carried a bouquet of carnations and holly and had a crescent of carnations in her hair.

Best man for the groom was Clifford Dyrad of Storm Lake, Iowa. Harold Ireland of Fairfield, Iowa, Richard Graff, also of Iowa, and Robert Lighton, of Chicago, acted as ushers. Each was attired in formal clothes and wore white carnation boutonnieres.

Mrs. A. L. Bufford, sister of the bride, chose a lavender, blue crepe dinner dress, while the groom's mother, Mrs. Thomas English, chose a grey dinner dress. Both wore orchids.

A reception was held at Mt. Prospect Country club. Following the reception the couple left for a two week honeymoon to Excelsior Springs, Mo. Upon their return, Mrs. English will resume her position as head dietician of Clarinda State hospital, Clarinda, Iowa and Mr. English will finish his education at Iowa State college, where he will graduate in June, 1949 with B. S. degrees in both General and Mechanical Engineering.

Three Injured In 3-Way Accident At York And Grand

Three cars were involved in an accident at the intersection of York and Grand ave., south of Bensenville, Wednesday afternoon about 1 o'clock. A car driven by Otto Hladek, 63, of 6021 S. Campbell ave., Chicago, failed to stop at York rd. and ran into the car driven by Robert Zinzer, 29, of Bensenville. Zinzer's car was thrown against another, going north on York, driven by Kenneth Schram, 17, of Schiller Park.

MR. ZINZER was taking two of his wife's guests to Elmhurst following a luncheon at the Ebert home, where Mr. and Mrs. Zinser live. They were Martha McGlynn Magerguth and Patricia Bryce, both of Bensenville, who were bruised and cut. Young Schram's passenger was Rev. Frederick W. Ringe, of Franklin Park, who was also shaken up in the crash. The two young ladies and Rev. Ringe were given emergency treatment at Memorial hospital, and then released. None of the three drivers were injured.

THIS IS A dangerous corner, where numerous serious as well as minor accidents have occurred, and stop lights are becoming a necessary precaution, it is said.

TAX FACTS

by George Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Just for the fun of it, get a pencil and paper and see if you can write fifty-five billion, two hundred million dollars in figures. That's what government—federal, state and local—cost the American people last year. Even if you end up with the right number of zeroes, it is such a tremendous sum of money that it is almost impossible to realize how tremendous it is.

It means that federal, state and local government cost $385 for every man, woman and child in the United States, based on an estimated population of 143 million. Put another way, it means that every second of every hour of ever day in the year $1,750 rolled into federal, state and local government treasuries.

How much of this tremendous bill for government did you pay?

You know, of course, how much you paid in federal income taxes. You may have a rough idea of how much you paid to the state in sales tax. You know how much you paid for licenses. If you own property, you know how much you paid in local property taxes. You may even have a rough idea how much you paid directly in federal and state taxes when you bought any electrical appliances, cosmetics, jewelry, cigarettes, gasoline and oil, and when you paid your electric and telephone bills.

But the total of all of those taxes represents only part of the total taxes collected — and not the major part either. Who paid the rest of the bill?

In the December issue of The American Magazine there is an article, "502 Taxes on a Pair of Shoes," which gives the answer.

When you buy a pair of shoes, there are 502 taxes on the leather alone, as follows:

	Fed. Tax.	Ste. Tax.	Loc. Tax.	Tot. Tax.
Cattle Rancher	35	20	10	65
Feed Lot Oper.	35	24	11	70
Slaughterhouse	35	19	9	63
Raw Stock Deal.	35	16	13	64
Tannery	35	16	13	64
Manufacturer	35	16	18	69
Wholesaler	35	16	6	57
Retailer	35	9	6	50

There are at least 189 taxes on a suit of clothes, 125 taxes on a cotton dress, 53 taxes on a loaf of bread, 127 on a roast of beef, 154 taxes on a cake of soap, 201 taxes on a gallon of gasoline, and 205 taxes on a new car.

* * *

"Of course, each tax paid by a manufacturer is automatically added to the selling price to the retailer, who, in turn, marks up his selling price on top of the taxes, as well as the manufacturer's cost," the magazine article states.

Who pays for the cost of government? You do, not only through income taxes, property taxes, sales taxes, gasoline taxes, excise taxes, luxury taxes, licenses and all of the other direct and indirect taxes you pay, but also you pay taxes for the cost of government in the high price of everything that you buy.

* * *

This article should be on the "must" reading list of everyone.

Aviation cadet program at record

The March aviation cadet class will be the largest in peacetime history, with a quota of 1,560 men between the ages of 20 and 26½, according to M/Sgt. Robert E. Elijah of the Army and Air Force recruiting station Post Office Building, Evanston.

The program has recently been opened to married men, marking the first time in peacetime since the 1920's that marital status does not have an effect on eligibility for flight training.

To speed procurement in this area, Sgt. Elijah said applicants will be able to take the educational test, required for men who do not have two years of college credit, and the air force qualifying examination for all candidates, at the Ravenswood recruiting station 4849 N. Western ave., Chicago on Dec. 28, 1948.

Applicants desiring more information about the aviation program may contact Sgt Hedges at the recruiting station in the Post Office Building, Arlington Heights, Thursday, Dec. 23, or call his home, Arlington Heights 51-R for an apopintment.

Young chemists in action

by JANICE HACKBARTH

Have you ever wonderel what goes on in the chemistry lab at Arlington high?

If you happened to peek in the door of room 213 not too long ago, you might have been attracted by some lavender sparks, (shooting up from a beaker.) No, it wasn't the fourth of July, but an experiment for the chemistry class. The sparks were produced by adding potassium to water.

On the demonstration table at the front of the big room all sorts of equipment was set up. As soon as the first experiment was completed, and the students had asked questions and copied their notes, the second experiment was ready.

Alvin Kulieke, chemistry teacher, proceeded to add various metals to test tubes containing dilute hydrochloric acid. While performing the experiment, he explained how hydrogen is liberated when the metals are active.

ALL EYES then turned to watch Allan Peters, who was holding a green balloon over a bottle in which hydrogen was being produced. By using the air compressor Mr. Kulieke forced air to mix with the hydrogen and oxygen as he held the balloon which was tied to a stick over the Bunsen burner, suddenly the balloon burst.

As soon as the 25 scientists recovered from the shock, they noticed that Bob Hinds, a student assistant,, was busily mixing colored substances in four beakers. The students leaned forward to watch more closely for Bob is always doing something unusual. By stirring the colors with a long stick the yellow turned to red (green to red and the red color disappeared.)

The bewildered on-lookers demanded an explanation but all Bob would say was, "You need a wand, of course."

Since the period was almost over Mr. Kulieke hurriedly told the students that certain precautions should be taken when handling lab equipment. To demonstrate he tried to force a glass tube into a rubber stopper. Suddenly the glass slipped and his hand was covered with blood. The class gasped; then curiously asked if he used catsup. But he just chuckled and said that was his secret.

EVEN MORE interesting than demonstrations are the lab periods when the students work on experiments themselves. After receiving directions they dash to the Bunsen burners, get out test tubes and other special apparatus. The necessary acids and metals are obtained from the store room. By the time everything is accumulated the period is usually half over. Then work begins in earnest.

As the reactions take place, the aspirant chemists write out the results in lab manuals. Genbackground for lab work so the students are familiar with the experiments to be performed.

Possibly chemistry class sounds a little boring, but really it isn't. The informality of a lab class is a pleasant change from history or English classes. The fact that something fascinating is constantly going on gives additional glamour.

Perhaps half of the allure of chemistry is due to Mr. Kulieke. This amiable teacher may be distinguished by a ready smile and wit. The few hours he doesn't spend working in the lab, he devotes to vocal work. Mr. Kulieke is well known around town for his musical ability. Besides taking voice lessons, he directs the choir of St. James United church of Chicago. His main outside interest is his young daughter Adrienne.

DURING THE last few summers Mr. Kulieke has been doing graduate work at the University of Chicago and at Northwestern.

Young chemists in action

by JANICE HACKBARTH

Have you ever wonderel what goes on in the chemistry lab at Arlington high?

If you happened to peek in the door of room 213 not too long ago, you might have been attracted by some lavender sparks, (shooting up from a beaker.) No, it wasn't the fourth of July, but an experiment for the chemistry class. The sparks were produced by adding potassium to water.

On the demonstration table at the front of the big room all sorts of equipment was set up. As soon as the first experiment was completed, and the students had asked questions and copied their notes, the second experiment was ready.

Alvin Kulieke, chemistry teacher, proceeded to add various metals to test tubes containing dilute hydrochloric acid. While performing the experiment, he explained how hydrogen is liberated when the metals are active.

ALL EYES then turned to watch Allan Peters, who was holding a green balloon over a bottle in which hydrogen was being produced. By using the air compressor Mr. Kulieke forced air to mix with the hydrogen and oxygen as he held the balloon which was tied to a stick over the Bunsen burner, suddenly the balloon burst.

As soon as the 25 scientists recovered from the shock, they noticed that Bob Hinds, a student assistant,, was busily mixing colored substances in four beakers. The students leaned forward to watch more closely for Bob is always doing something unusual. By stirring the colors with a long stick the yellow turned to red (green to red and the red color disappeared.)

The bewildered on-lookers demanded an explanation but all Bob would say was, "You need a wand, of course."

Since the period was almost over Mr. Kulieke hurriedly told the students that certain precautions should be taken when handling lab equipment. To demonstrate he tried to force a glass tube into a rubber stopper. Suddenly the glass slipped and his hand was covered with blood. The class gasped; then curiously asked if he used catsup. But he just chuckled and said that was his secret.

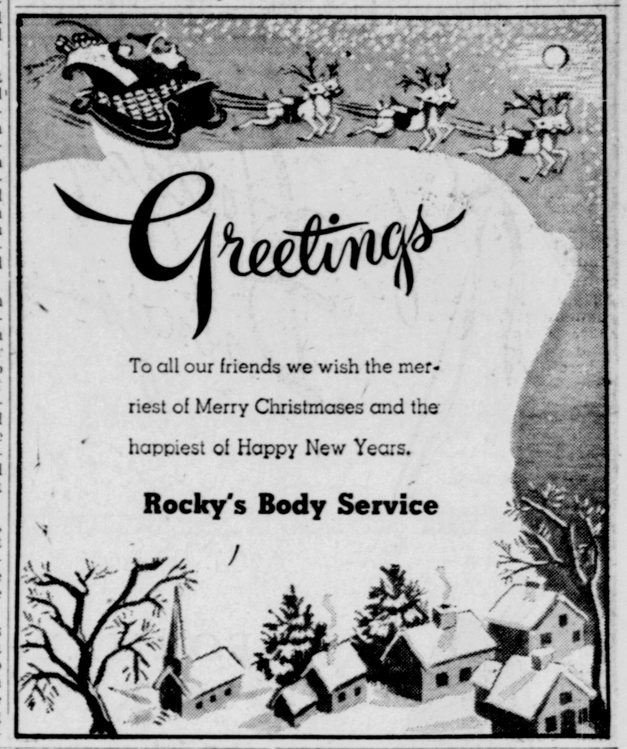
EVEN MORE interesting than demonstrations are the lab periods when the students work on experiments themselves. After receiving directions they dash to the Bunsen burners, get out tes' tubes and other special apparatus. The necessary acids and metals are obtained from the store room. By the time everything is accumulated the period is usually half over. Then work begins in earnest.

As the reactions take place, the aspirant chemists write out the results in lab manuals. Genbackground for lab work so the students are familiar with the experiments to be performed.

Possibly chemistry class sounds a little boring, but really it isn't. The informality of a lab class is a pleasant change from history or English classes. The fact that something fascinating is constantly going on gives additional glamour.

Perhaps half of the allure of chemistry is due to Mr. Kulieke. This amiable teacher may be distinguished by a ready smile and wit. The few hours he doesn't spend working in the lab, he devotes to vocal work. Mr. Kulieke is well known around town for his musical ability. Besides taking voice lessons, he directs the choir of St. James United church of Chicago. His main outside interest is his young daughter Adrienne.

DURING THE last few summers Mr. Kulieke has been doing graduate work at the University of Chicago and at Northwestern.



Greetings for Christmas

The most cherished of gifts bestowed upon us by the outgoing year is the confidence of those we have been privileged to serve. Ever appreciative of this pleasant relationship, we want to express to our many good friends our sincerest wishes for a joyous Christmas season and a very happy New Year.

Telephone girls have Yule party

A gala time was had Thursday evening by the 42 girls in the traffic department of the Arlington Heights Bell Telephone company. The occasion was a Christmas party, which was complete with tree and other Yule decorations.

Activities during the evening consisted of games and the singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. Clair Healey won the door prize. After an exchange of gifts the girls "polished off" plates of tempting refreshments.

Lorna Meyer says 'I do' to Arthur Nightingale

The wedding vows of Miss Lorna Meyer and Arthur C. Nightingale were taken December 11 at St. Peter Ev. Lutheran church. Rev. L. V. Stephan performed the ceremony before the altar which was banked with baskets of white mums, palms, and candelabra.

Miss Meyer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Meyer and Mr. Nightingale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Nightingale, all of Arlington Heights.

"Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung during the ceremony by Miss Ruth Studtman, who was accompanied by E. W. Klammer at the organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white satin gown. The bodice was styled with an off the shoulder effect, and the full skirt ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a beaded tiara. White mums, centered with an orchid, made up her bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Gertrude Hinz, cousin of the bride. She wore a dress of red plum faille taffeta, fashioned with drop shoulder and full skirt. Her outfit was completed with matching gauntlets and a bouquet of white mums dropping streamers knotted with ivy.

Mrs. Ruth Meyer, sister-in-law of the bride, and Irene Nightingale, sister of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaids. They were gowned identical to the maid of honor.

The bridegroom was attended by William Pauling as best man, with Kurt Meyer and Robert Kehe acting as ushers.

A reception of 300 guests was held at Wheeling gym following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Nightingale are now living in their own home on Palatine road, Arlington Heights.

Old folks entertained, treated for Christmas

The Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged of Arlington Heights, announces that its Open House festivities, December 26, will feature the Treble Clef choir of St. John's Lutheran church, Mayfair, with Miss Betty Ann Bode of Concordia church, Chicago, and Mrs. Marjorie Hermann of Grace Lutheran church, Chicago, as soloists. The afternoon song service will begin at 3 p. m. Friends of the Home are invited to attend this program and the luncheon to follow.

Many groups are giving of their time and talents to bring gifts and the Christmas spirit to the residents of the Home.

Sunday, December 5, the Ladies Aid of Immanuel Lutheran church, Glenview, visited the Home to give the residents a Christmas party. A girls choir accompanied the ladies and gave a concert of Christmas carols in the Home's dining hall. The ladies served ice cream and Christmas cookies and coffee to the residents throughout the Home and distributed gifts to all.

Thursday December 9, the Ladies Aid of Saint John's Lutheran church, Niles, visited the Home to acquaint themselves with the services it extends to aged people. They donated pies, which were served to the residents at the evening meal.

Friday, December 17, the Ladies club of Immanuel church, Palatine (Pastor W. C. Koester), visited the Home to sing carols. A group of little children accompanied them and caroled under the direction of their teacher, Miss Erica Runge. The ladies brought individual gift boxes for the residents' Christmas.

OES, Masons have joint holiday party

The annual joint Christmas party of the Arlington Heights Eastern Star and Masonic Lodge was held December 16 at the Presbyterian church. Guests attending included members of the two organizations and their families.

Each child attending was presented with a gift and refreshments for all were served in the dining room.

This Thursday evening the OES will hold a stated meeting and Christmas party, at 7:30, at the Presbyterian church. Each member is asked to bring a 25 cent gift for the grab bag.

Stork feathers

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Saar, of 122 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, are parents of a son, born December 14 at Sherman hospital, Elgin. The baby weighed in at 8½ pounds and has been named Michael Ovie. Mrs. Saar is the former Dolores Tichy.

A son was born December 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Krebsbach, 10 S. Ridge, Arlington Heights. The stork delivered him to Elmhurst hospital, where he tipped the scales at 7½ lbs. The little boy has been named John Peter. He has a brother, Danny, and two sisters, Kay and Nancy, to help take care of him.

It's a boy for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moehling, Wilke road, Arlington Heights. The little lad was born December 11 at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. He weighed 9 pounds 10 ounces at birth and has been named Gary Harold. Gary has a sister, Karen Lee, who is 19 months old.

Phyllis Hodson engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hodson, Quintens road, Palatine, this week announced the engagement of their daughter Phyllis Ann to Wilbur Glade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Glade, of S. Plum Grove road, Palatine. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Elsie Anfeldt bride of Matthew Schone

Miss Elsie Anfeldt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Anfeldt, of Wheeling, became the bride of Matthew Schone, of Park Ridge, Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed in the Community Presbyterian church, with Rev. Robert Bowman officiating.

The bride was gowned in white satin with finger-tip length veil, and carried white roses. She was given in marriage by her father, Henry Anfeldt.

Matron of honor was Rose Schone, and bridesmaids were Helen Anfeldt, Eleanor Schone, Margaret Schone and Marilyn Metz. They were all dressed in powder blue, with red picture hats and carried red roses.

The groom's brother, Nick Schone, served as best man. Ernest Anfeldt and several friends of the groom, were ushers.

A wedding dinner was served at 5 p. m. at Wenzlaff's, and a reception was held later in the evening at Edison Park. Mr. and Mrs. Schone are enjoying a honeymoon trip to California. They plan to make their home in Park Ridge.

Arlington Park kiddies feted at Christmas party

Nearly 100 boys and girls of the Arlington Park subdivision of Arlington Heights, were present at a Christmas party given for them Tuesday evening. The party was held at the Methodist Meeting House and was given by Mesdames John Lindstrom, Joe Miller, Earl Cox, John L. Baker, and E. J. Mueller.

Entertainment consisted of magician, dance and accordion acts. Jane Hallenstein of Chicago, played the piano while the boys and girls sang the many Christmas carols. Joe Miller acted as master of ceremonies.

As the grand finale Santa Claus made his appearance and presented each child with a gift. Refreshments of Christmas cookies and ice cream were also enjoyed.

Teachers travel for holidays

Arlington Heights will be well represented over most of the United States when teachers of Arlington Heights high school return home for the Christmas holidays.

Robert Kemman will make certain he doesn't forget any future anniversaries when he promises to "love, honor and cherish" December 26 in Des Plaines.

Among teachers who will travel farthest to be with their families will be Doris Black, who expects to visit her home in Big Stone City, South Dakota; William Boland, who will travel to Los Angeles, Calif.; Jeanne Fretz, whose parents live in Pennsylvania, and the H. L. Slickenmyers, who plan to take a trip through Texas and Mexico.

HAZEL BEVERLY will remain in Elgin, while the J. D. Brysons will spend most of their time in Arlington Heights with the exception of a short trip to Stockton, Ill. The R. M. Conrads will travel to Van West, Ohio, to visit Mrs. Conrad's mother, and Mrs. Florence Elfeld plans to journey to Wisconsin.

Hazel M. Faulkner will be with her family in Evanston and from there has planned to go to the Book-Cadillac hotel, Detroit. Grand Island, Neb., home of her parents, looks inviting to Margaret Firth.

Mary S. Handlin has packed her Christmas gifts and is on the way to her home in Springfield while Madeliene Hohenhorst of Palatine will remain closer to Arlington Heights in visiting in Geneva.

Glenview is home to Irene Kreer and Chicago will be the destination of Nicholas Kushta. C. R. Larsen will take a short trip to Joliet and DeKalb. Christmas vacation plans of Edith Lindsey are unknown except that she does expect to spend the holidays with relatives and friends, while Alma Leonhard will be in Jacksonville, Ill. with her parents.

Charleston, Ill. and Marine, Ill. beckon to Nelson L. Lowry, and Jane Mahin says Washington, Ia. is the place to be. Leta McMillin may be Jane Mahin's traveling companion part of the way when she journeys to Dubuque, Ia.

MOTHERS-IN-LAW are nice people when they live in Manitowac, Wis. as Edward Paulus' does.

Other teachers who plan to remain in Illinois with their folks are Patricia Potts, Gibson City; Katherine Renich, Woodstock; Kathryn Redman, Oakwood; Ethel Riordan, Oak Park, and James G. Thon, Oak Park.

J. W. Schaff will travel north to Madison, Wis. then south to Springfield, Ill. so no one shall be offended, and Dorothy Wilson's parents are waiting for her in Manchester, Ohio. Louise Younggren hasn't decided what she intends to do.

Principal L. J. Knoeppel will join teachers and office members who plan to remain in Arlington Heights because their respective families are at a distance or for personal reasons. They are Helen Guenther, Jean Harauer, Marian Goebbert, Elaine Kene, L. E. Bell, William Creamer, H. W. Grace,, John Hookom, Alvin L. Kulieke, Gertrude O'Connor, F. C. Smoyer, and D. M. Volz.

Several Arlington Heighters are contemplating extending the Christmas spirit beyond their immediate homes and intend to invite their children's teachers to spend a few hours with them over the holiday.

LINE UP TWO HOLIDAY TOURNEYS AT DEKALB AND PALATINE

Niles vs Arlington in De Kalb meet Monday

by BUD NANGLE

Pairings for the Twenty-first Annual DeKalb Holiday Tournament were announced last week by E. O. Hoppe, principal of the host school, DeKalb Township high school.

The tourney, which is one of the oldest in the northern section of the state, will be conducted from December 27 to December 30 with sixteen outstanding quintets in this region vieing for honors. Teams that will participate range from such large suburban schools as Riverside, Leyden, Glenbard, Arlington Heights and Niles to tiny Kirkland, Shabbona, and Waterman in the DeKalb County area. Other schools that will compete for the championship include the host school, DeKalb, and West Aurora, East Aurora, Genoa, West Rockford, Rochelle, Naperville, and Sycamore.

TOP SEEDED team in the tourney is the strong West Aurora Blackhawks who will be seeking their third tournament triumph since the inception of the tourney back in 1928. West Aurora last tasted tourney victory back in 1934 and 1935 under the guidance of Ralph Fletcher.

Defending champions in the tourney are the highly regarded Glenbard Hilltoppers under the direction of James Cook. The West Suburban quintet has been seeded second and will face tiny Shabbona in the opening game for lower bracket teams on Tuesday afternoon, December 28.

Upper bracket tourney pairings to be played on Monday, December 27 will see West Aurora facing Kirkland, Riverside vs. Genoa, West Rockford vs Rochelle, and Niles Township of Skokie vs Arlington Heights.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 28, the lower bracket will swing into action with Glenbard the defending champion, drawing Shabbona, East Aurora vs Sycamore, DeKalb vs Naperville, and Leyden Community of Franklin Park vs Waterman.

The tournament will be conducted on afternoons and evenings with the morning session being eliminated this year. Afternoon games will get underway at 2 o'clock with the evening sessions starting at 7:30 o'clock. Two games will mark both afternoon and evening sessions.

Semi-finals will be played Thursday afternoon with the championship contest being staged Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. There will be no third place game. All games will be played on the Northern Illinois State Teachers college court.

CARDINAL and Trojan fans that are unable to make the trek to DeKalb will be able to hear a broadcast of the games from radio stations WBNU-FM and WMRO, both of Aurora, and WLBK, DeKalb. It is not certain that WMRO and WLBK will be airing the evening sessions but Chick Hearn will be on the FM waves for all of the games.

Tickets on sale for DeKalb tourney

Athletic Director Grace has announced an allotment of 175 reserved seats for Arlington Heights cage fans wishing to see the Cards in action at the DeKalb college gymnasium in the holiday tournament next week. Though the high school is host, games will be played in the college gym.

Tickets may be secured at the local high school business office up to 4 p. m. every day until game time. Price is 75c for adults, and 50c for students. The tickets are good for both sessions, with West Rockford testing Rochelle at 7:30, and the Niles-Arlington fracas slated for 9 p. m.

Winners of these two games will play Wednesday afternoon at 3 p. m.

Pirates lose to Northbrook; frosh-sophs win

Palatine's frosh-soph basketball team took over undisputed first place in the Northwest Conference standings Friday night with a 39-29 conquest of previously unbeaten Northbrook. The Palatine boys had to fight an uphill battle the first half but they came from behind to lead 16-14 at the intermission. Guenther hit three straight baskets in the third period to lead Palatine to a 29-18 margin which proved sufficient to win Palatine's sixth straight. Rogers at forward had a big night with 13 points while Sherman scored in every quarter to tally 12. Rodney had 11 and McWilliams 12 for Northbrook.

Northbrook's varsity led all the way after the first few minutes of play to hand the Pirates their fifth league loss, 37-20. Palatine made three baskets in the first two minutes of the game and appeared to have shaken themselves out of their slump but they were soon in a worse one than before as they scored only five baskets the rest of the way and trailed 15-6 the first quarter. Bandow scored 10 points and Rodney nine for Northbrook. Orzolek had nine of Palatine's 20.

It's ballet time as (Arlington) Cards beat (Leyden) Eagles

Scene above might well be the Civic Opera House, featuring the ballet, but actually it's a tense moment in the waning moments of Friday night's Arlington victory over Leyden on the court. The Cards won, 42-40, staving off a belated Eagle rally.

Arlington frosh whip Palatine

The Arlington Frosh basketball team maintained its unbeaten record by downing the Palatine Frosh 36-19, in the Arlington Heights gymnasium Monday.

Charles Miller emerged as high scorer with 12 points to lead the Arlington Frosh basketeers.

The same Arlington Frosh team rallied in the second half to come back from a 14-11 deficit at half time, to emerge victorious a week before at Barrington in a close encounter which ended 25-23. It was Arlington's Mike Theis who in the last fleeting seconds of the game spoiled a possible victory for Barrington by sinking a short set shot.

In this encounter Phillip Knoeppel scored 8 points for Arlington to lead the scorers of both teams. Line-ups:

Bisons vs. Leyden and Cards tackle Pirates in opener New Year's Eve

by G. A. McELROY
(Sports Editor)

The Palatine Holiday tournament scheduled for New Years Eve and New Year's night should provide a basketball natural. According to a 11 calculations Arlington and Leyden will clash in the final and what a game that should be. Arlington won by two points when the teams met last week at Arlington. On Palatine's small court Leyden should be more at home for they have cramped quarters in Franklin Park.

New Years Eve the Leyden Eagles will open the meet by playing Bensenville, tied for the Northwest lead. The Bisons have beaten Ela, Wauconda, Northbrook, Antioch, and Barrington, while losing only to Palatine by two points. Leyden has wins over Batavia, Palatine, Schurz of Chicago, and Highland Park, while losing a one pointer to Maine and a two pointer to Arlington. It looks like a Leyden victory by 10 points or more.

IN THE SECOND first round game Arlington meets an old rival in Palatine but this year the Pirates and their feeble basket shooting should not prove very difficult for Coach Bell's sharp shooting Cardinals. Arlington should breeze into the final by 15 or 20 points.

New Years night Palatine and Bensenville will play for third barring the upset of the season and this time the Bisons will have quite an edge in the odds. Having suffered their only loss at the hands of the Pirates, Bensenville will be out to redeem themselves. The championship battle for the tournament trophy will bring together two of the best basketball teams in this area and should be the cage treat of the season.

ARLINGTON HAS two very fast and excellent ball handlers in Meyer and Gordon Busse at guards and two very fine rebounders and scorers in Robinson and Schaeffer at forwards. Eugene Busse at center is developing into a star pivot man.

Leyden has a powerful team with only one boy lost from last year's standout quintet. Rerucha and Mascia at forwards; J. Spera at guard or center; Anderson or Lofgren at center; and R. Spera and Graber, guards; present a formidable lineup. Rerucha is averaging about 16 points a game against good opposition.

Admission to the tournament will be 60c straight with no activity tickets for passes honored. Each night the sessions will open at 7:30 with doors open for ticket sales at 6:30. Officials for the tournament are Mike Rose of North Chicago and Paul Sokody of Elgin.

Arlington, with that 42-40 win over Leyden looks like a cinch for at least a co-championship in the NE basketball loop.

The Cards had already whipped Niles, and this Leyden victory gave Coach Gene Bell an undefeated conference season up to now in this 3 team loop. Friday night's win was the Cards third straight and they should make it four straight against Northbrook Wednesday.

Getting back to the Leyden game, the Cards really played heads-up ball throughout the game and even out-rebounded the much taller Eagles.

A big factor in the Cards winning streak thus far is the fact that no certain player is depended on for the bulk of the scoring. The scoring has been very evenly divided in each contest, and that makes for a well-balanced team.

Arlington will test out Niles again at 9:00 p. m., Monday, Dec. 27 in its first game of the DeKalb tourney. If the Cards can beat the Trojans, they will meet either West Rockford or Rochelle Wednesday at 3:30.

Santa Claus was present between halves of the varsity game and threw candy to the fans.

Niles swimmers defeat Maine

by BILL GRAEFEN

The Niles township high school varsity swimming team outswam the tankers from Maine township high school and won by a score of 36 to 30, in a meet held at Maine on Tuesday, December 14.

First place positions and points went to Bob Lindahl, 100-yard free-style; Dick Provost, diving; Dennis Joyce, 100-yard breast stroke; and the medley team composed of Delbert Whitney, Provost, and Don Ebert.

Lindahl, who usually places first in the 50-yard free-style, missed winning by a touch. Bill Nickel and Dick Provost captured all but one of the diving points.

The next home swimming meet for the Trojans will be on January 11, with Amundsen high school of Chicago, according to Anton T. Schubert, Nilehi swim coach.

Niles frosh cagers lose to Waukegan

by PETE HEINIGER

The Niles Township high school freshmen were under tough competition as they lost to a good Waukegan team 41-27 on the Waukegan home court on Wednesday, December 15.

The frosh, coached by Charles Hussey, are improving in every game, even though their competition is rugged. Mr. Hussey thinks his boys may do better when they play on their home court. First home game is with Evanston on January 5 at 4 p.m.

Rigid training pays off for 17-year-old at Olympics

That continuous, 'round-the-year training is the most important goal of any successful athlete was borne out last week Friday when Bob Mathias, decathlon champion at the Olympic games in London last summer, visited in Arlington Heights.

Mathias was visiting at the home of his roommate at college, Lew Draper, of Arlington Heights, and appeared at the local school ostensibly to talk to lettermen. The girls far outnumbered the boys, however, and Mathias is scheduled for a return engagement "for men only" when June rolls around.

The decathlon, consisting of a series of athletic feats including discus, javelin, shot put, high hurdles, broad jump, high jump, pole vault, and 100, 400 and 1,500 meter runs, tests the mettle of any adult. Yet just last summer, Bob Mathias, 17 year old youngster of Tulare, California, won that event against the world's best.

"Continuous training, at least to some degree, is a must for any athlete who hopes to be a success," stated Bob to athletic director Wally Grace at Arlington Heights high school when interviewed.

"YOU'VE GOT to watch your diet, refrain from drinking or smoking, and, in general, live moderately throughout the year. Then when your sport season comes around, it takes a minimum of effort be at your best physically."

Visiting Draper with Mathias was Bob Heja, all three of them enrolled at Kiski prep school at Saltsburg, Pa. The school, famed as the "Home of 77 All-Americans", prepares high school graduates for college, giving them training that's a bit more advanced than received in the average high school.

All three boys have been accepted for enrollment at Stanford university, Palo Alto, California, for next year.

BOB MATHIAS' marks in winning last summer's Olympics include:

Javelin, 165'1".
Discus, 144'4".
Shot, 42'9¼".
110 meter high hurdles, :15.7.
100 meter run, :11.2.
1,500 meter run, 11.05:00.
Broad jump, 21'8 1/3".
High jump, 6'1¼".
400 meter run, :51.7.
Pole vault, 11'5¾".

INDOOR SEASON for track starts just after the holidays and Mathias will report then to Pittsburgh, to begin training. He intends to enter individual events in only the National Interscholastic meet, while competing on the Kiski prep school relay squad.

Included on the team's plans are meets at Ann Arbor, Washington, D. C. and Cleveland.

Mathias, modest in spite of the attention he draws wherever he appears, assured Arlington high school officials he will be back next June for an evening's session with local lettermen. The Drapers have invited him to be their house guests for two weeks.

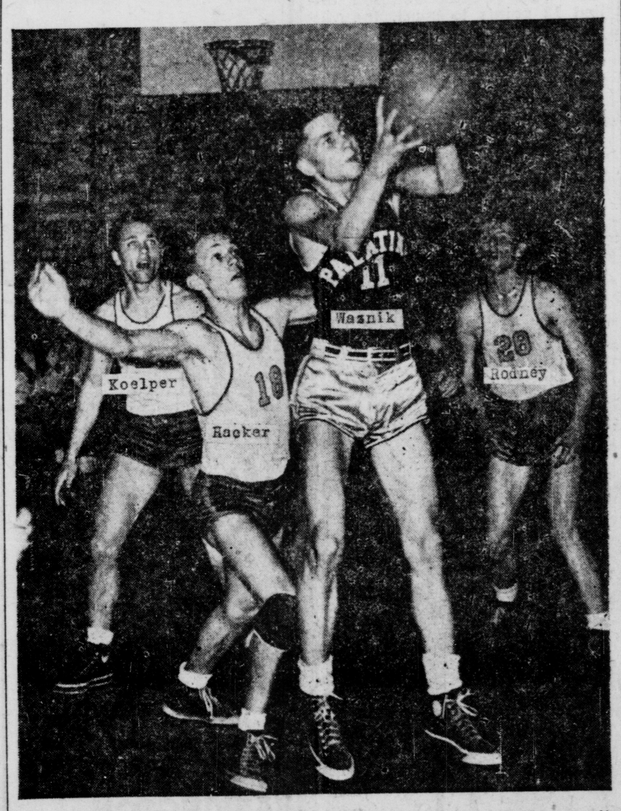
NOT A BORE

Today plum pudding and mince pie are tasty treats associated with the Christmas season. According to the World Book Encyclopedia, during the days of Henry VIII of England, the head of a boar was considered a Christmas delicacy.

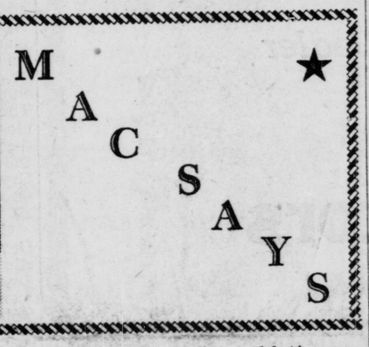
Arlington at Northbrook

Arlington Heights high school Cardinals travel to Northbrook Wednesday night of this week, December 22. Northbrook holds third spot in the present Northwest league race, while coach Gene Bell's Cards are preparing for next week's double header in tournaments.

Waznik sinks shot, but Pirates lose



Waznik posed for a shot in Palatine's Friday night varsity loss to Northbrook. The local frosh-sophs copped the preliminary, however, to take undisputed lead in the youngster division of the Northwest conference. Rose photo.



Barrington finally lost their first varsity athletic contest of the school year. And how they lost it. Bensenville took the Bronchos to camp on their own floor in a double bill with a 15 point margin in a varsity game which was a very convincing demonstration that the Bisons intend to retain their league championship. Just after the league season got underway Dick Warfield, Wauconda Principal, gave me the prediction that Bensenville would be the team to knock off Barrington. He was right.

Bensenville's only defeat Palatine's only victory

The oddity of the whole thing is that the only team to beat Bensenville was Palatine. It was the only game the Pirates have won in eight starts to date. The Pirates have a good defense but lack scoring punch. In the first six league games they have averaged 26 points while the next lowest scoring team has a 35 a game average. The Palatine team has been hiting neither field goal nor free throw shots.

Arlington has Indian sign on Leyden's teams this year

Arlington Heights has a better ball team than most persons including this writer had given them credit for having. Any team capable of beating Leyden this year is a very fine ball club. We have not seen the Cards in action as yet, but we are told they have speed and ball handling skill second to none in Arlington's basketball history. We believe it after Friday night. The 42-40 score certainly should make that tournament final at the Palatine holiday affair a real attraction.

Minnesota looks to us like new big nine champ

We have not seen a smoother working college team in action than the Minnesota Gophers who smothered DePaul's Blue Demons Saturday night at the Stadium. If they play like that in the Big Nine race they will win the championship. Jim McIntyre is all he has been rated to be and very active for a six foot 10 fellow. The boys who really make the Gopher team click are Olson and Skoog.

DePaul set a new stadium record of 38 personal fouls trying to stop the Norskies who never let a hard pressing defense bother them. Northwestern proved the point that midwestern basketball is the best in the nation as they ran over previously unbeaten Navy for their first victory. Saturday's games were very one sided but being a Big Nine fan the results were satisfying.

Weather beat the Cards Sunday; that's our alibi

We may be a bit prejudiced, being a Cardinal fan, when we say that the weather conditions present in Philadelphia Sunday decided the pro championship game. In other sports, those in charge would not think of staging championship events under such conditions. Football seems to be different that way.

We feel that the Cards or Bears could whip the Eagles nine out of 10 times under normal weather conditions. The Bears lost at Philadelphia in the mud and the Cards lost Sunday in a blizzard. For the good of pro football, it may help interest to have the weak eastern section of the league win the title but we still feel the Cards have the best team.

LINE UP TWO HOLIDAY TOURNEYS AT DEKALB AND PALATINE

Niles vs Arlington in De Kalb meet Monday

by BUD NANGLE

Pairings for the Twenty-first Annual DeKalb Holiday Tournament were announced last week by E. O. Hoppe, principal of the host school, DeKalb Township high school.

The tourney, which is one of the oldest in the northern section of the state, will be conducted from December 27 to December 30 with sixteen outstanding quintets in this region vieing for honors. Teams that will participate range from such large suburban schools as Riverside, Leyden, Glenbard, Arlington Heights and Niles to tiny Kirkland, Shabbona, and Waterman in the DeKalb County area. Other schools that will compete for the championship include the host school, DeKalb, and West Aurora, East Aurora, Genoa, West Rockford, Rochelle, Naperville, and Sycamore.

TOP SEEDED team in the tourney is the strong West Aurora Blackhawks who will be seeking their third tournament triumph since the inception of the tourney back in 1928. West Aurora last tasted tourney victory back in 1934 and 1935 under the guidance of Ralph Fletcher.

Defending champions in the tourney are the highly regarded Glenbard Hilltoppers under the direction of James Cook. The West Suburban quintet has been seeded second and will face tiny Shabbona in the opening game for lower bracket teams on Tuesday afternoon, December 28.

Upper bracket tourney pairings to be played on Monday, December 27 will see West Aurora facing Kirkland, Riverside vs. Genoa, West Rockford vs Rochelle, and Niles Township of Skokie vs Arlington Heights.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 28, the lower bracket will swing into action with Glenbard the defending champion, drawing Shabbona, East Aurora vs Sycamore, DeKalb vs Naperville, and Leyden Community of Franklin Park vs Waterman.

The tournament will be conducted on afternoons and evenings with the morning session being eliminated this year. Afternoon games will get underway at 2 o'clock with the evening sessions starting at 7:30 o'clock. Two games will mark both afternoon and evening sessions.

Semi-finals will be played Thursday afternoon with the championship contest being staged Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. There will be no third place game. All games will be played on the Northern Illinois State Teachers college court.

CARDINAL and Trojan fans that are unable to make the trek to DeKalb will be able to hear a broadcast of the games from radio stations WBNU-FM and WMRO, both of Aurora, and WLBK, DeKalb. It is not certain that WMRO and WLBK will be airing the evening sessions but Chick Hearn will be on the FM waves for all of the games.

Tickets on sale for DeKalb tourney

Athletic Director Grace has announced an allotment of 175 reserved seats for Arlington Heights cage fans wishing to see the Cards in action at the DeKalb college gymnasium in the holiday tournament next week. Though the high school is host, games will be played in the college gym.

Tickets may be secured at the local high school business office up to 4 p. m. every day until game time. Price is 75c for adults, and 50c for students. The tickets are good for both sessions, with West Rockford testing Rochelle at 7:30, and the Niles-Arlington fracas slated for 9 p. m.

Winners of these two games will play Wednesday afternoon at 3 p. m.

Pirates lose to Northbrook; frosh-sophs win

Palatine's frosh-soph basketball team took over undisputed first place in the Northwest Conference standings Friday night with a 39-29 conquest of previously unbeaten Northbrook. The Palatine boys had to fight an uphill battle the first half but they came from behind to lead 16-14 at the intermission. Guenther hit three straight baskets in the third period to lead Palatine to a 29-18 margin which proved sufficient to win Palatine's sixth straight. Rogers at forward had a big night with 13 points while Sherman scored in every quarter to tally 12. Rodney had 11 and McWilliams 12 for Northbrook.

Northbrook's varsity led all the way after the first few minutes of play to hand the Pirates their fifth league loss, 37-20. Palatine made three baskets in the first two minutes of the game and appeared to have shaken themselves out of their slump but they were soon in a worse one than before as they scored only five baskets the rest of the way and trailed 15-6 the first quarter. Bandow scored 10 points and Rodney nine for Northbrook. Orzolek had nine of Palatine's 20.

Arlington frosh whip Palatine

The Arlington Frosh basketball team maintained its unbeaten record by downing the Palatine Frosh 36-19, in the Arlington Heights gymnasium Monday.

Charles Miller emerged as high scorer with 12 points to lead the Arlington Frosh basketeers.

The same Arlington Frosh team rallied in the second half to come back from a 14-11 deficit at half time, to emerge victorious a week before at Barrington in a close encounter which ended 25-23. It was Arlington's Mike Theis who in the last fleeting seconds of the game spoiled a possible victory for Barrington by sinking a short set shot.

In this encounter Phillip Knoeppel scored 8 points for Arlington to lead the scorers of both teams. Line-ups:

Bisons vs. Leyden and Cards tackle Pirates in opener New Year's Eve

by G. A. McELROY

The Palatine Holiday tournament scheduled for New Years Eve and New Year's night should provide a basketball natural. Saturday's games were very one sided but being a Big Nine fan the results were satisfying.

Weather beat the Cards Sunday; that's our alibi

We may be a bit prejudiced, being a Cardinal fan, when we say that the weather conditions present in Philadelphia Sunday decided the pro championship game. In other sports, those in charge would not think of staging championship events under such conditions. Football seems to be different that way.

We feel that the Cards or Bears could whip the Eagles nine out of 10 times under normal weather conditions. The Bears lost at Philadelphia in the mud and the Cards lost Sunday in a blizzard. For the good of pro football, it may help interest to have the weak eastern section of the league win the title but we still feel the Cards have the best team.

Niles swimmers defeat Maine

by BILL GRAEFEN

The Niles township high school varsity swimming team outswam the tankers from Maine township high school and won by a score of 36 to 30, in a meet held at Maine on Tuesday, December 14.

First place positions and points went to Bob Lindahl, 100-yard free-style; Dick Provost, diving; Dennis Joyce, 100-yard breast stroke; and the medley team composed of Delbert Whitney, Provost, and Don Ebert.

Lindahl, who usually places first in the 50-yard free-style, missed winning by a touch. Bill Nickel and Dick Provost captured all but one of the diving points.

The next home swimming meet for the Trojans will be on January 11, with Amundsen high school of Chicago, according to Anton T. Schubert, Nilehi swim coach.

Niles frosh cagers lose to Waukegan

by PETE HEINIGER

The Niles Township high school freshmen were under tough competition as they lost to a good Waukegan team 41-27 on the Waukegan home court on Wednesday, December 15.

The frosh, coached by Charles Hussey, are improving in every game, even though their competition is rugged. Mr. Hussey thinks his boys may do better when they play on their home court. First home game is with Evanston on January 5 at 4 p.m.

Ela center lost for season with leg fracture

Cage hopes at Ela high school were dimmed last week by the loss of their regular center for the season. Leroy Kalkbrenner, lone regular back from last year's team suffered a broken leg in practice last Thursday night. Kalkbrenner had averaged 12 points a game for the Bears, whose hopes of a first division place in the final standings are now about shot. Ela has some very good ball players but lacks good tall men.

Antioch center leading conference scorer

Irving Buchta, Antioch's junior center, is the leading scorer in the Northwest Conference with a 17 point a game average. Next week we expect to publish the individual scoring records of Northwest players for the first half of the schedule. All first half games have been played as on Tuesday night except the Bensenville-Grant clash which has been postponed until January. Boys sure to rank high in the scoring in addition to Buchta are Jeppsen of Barrington, Anderson and Keller of Bensenville, Bandow and Bizer of Northbrook, Wendland and Johnson of Grant, Prouty of Ela, and Osinski of Wauconda.

Favorites upset in three leagues

This last Friday was the night for favorites to be upset. While Barrington was getting a going over at the hands of Bensenville in the Northwest Conference Zion-Benton was upsetting favored Crystal Lake on the Tigers own court 33-28 in the North Suburban. Zion tried a zone defense on the Lakers and it worked to perfection in stopping Coach Brady's tall boys. It looks like a two team race of Zion and Crystal Lake in the North Suburban and Barrington and Bensenville in the Northwest. It is a toss up at this point in each league. Then over in the three team Northeast Arlington's 42-40 win over Niles was a real upset in our book.

How they look in other leagues

In the big Suburban League, Evanston is riding high on a six game winning streak. They nosed out Oak Park by one point who beat Waukegan by two. You can take your pick among the three and New Trier who set down Oak Park recently may be a real contender. In the West Suburban League Riverside went into first place as they whipped undefeated LaGrange. Dundee as usual dominates the Little Seven. A recent tally of 108 points against West Chicago set a new league scoring mark. Elgin is dominating the Big Eight with West Aurora exhibiting real class in an attempt to repeat last year's title. Downstate the teams rated near the top of the state wide heap are Eveland's Paris five and Moline.

Northwest basketball below par this season

That the Northwest Conference is below par this year in basketball is shown by the fact that Grayslake of the North Suburban who had not won a game was victor over Grant 39-33 of the Northwest on Saturday. This week, Thursday, Barrington and Zion, league leaders of their respective conferences, will clash at Zion for further proof of this state of affairs. We expect Zion to win.

Bisons suprise, beat Barrington

Bensenville's Bison's pulled the unexpected Friday night when pulled away to a third quarter ten point lead and kept going to soundly trounce Barrington Bronchos in a Northwest conference contest.

The Broncs had been favored all the time until the starting whistle. They were still favored at the quarter, and at the half though one basket behind.

From then on it was all Bensenville as coach Tom Navotney's boys served notice they were definitely still in the running for the conference basketball championship, by winning, 57-42.

NOT ONE substitute entered the game for the DuPage county boys with Zielinski almost copping scoring honors with seven buckets. Teammate Anderson was ahead of him, however, as he rolled in five charities in addition to five from the outer court.

And then there was Keller who swished the hoops for 13 scores DesLauries was right there, too, as he added 11 to his total for the season. Baldwin added one bucket and two free throws to make it unanimous.

BARRINGTON also had every player entering the scoring column, with Hicks sinking seven and one.

Frosh-soph contest started slow, but gained a decent momentum the second half. Intermission tally was 9-7 for the Bisons, with the DuPage five adding two more points to their margin for a 29-25 victory.

Antioch sweeps two games from Wauconda

Antioch showed improvement as they swept a double bill from strong Wauconda fives Friday night. Antioch's varsity led 25-10 at the half, but had to hold off a spirited Wauconda rally to win 45-42. Irving Buchta, Antioch center, scored 17 points. Fink of Wauconda tallied six baskets in a second half rally which fell short.

Antioch frosh-sophs put on an exhibition of torrid shooting in the final quarter to hand Wauconda their second defeat 49-36. Antioch trailed 21-15 at the half and was still behind going into the final quarter but Tom Haviland got hot and hit nine field goals in the final seven minute period and Antioch won going away.

Niles freshman swimmers win

by PETE HEINIGER

The Frosh tankmen of Niles Township high school floated away with a victory over Maine Township high school, 45-10, in a meet held at Maine on Tuesday, December 14.

First places were taken by Bob Holmes, 25-yard back stroke; Gary Kruger, breast stroke; Bob Kennedy, 25-yard free-style. The relay team of Bob Kennedy, Jim Russel, Jack Kenny, and Bob Holmes took first in the free-style relay.

The Frosh-Soph mermen did not fare so well, and dropped their meet, 38-19.

Dave Tegtman took first place in the diving with 30 points. The Frosh-Soph relay team of Dave Tegtman, Fred Yocum, Dick Larson, and Jim Rugen took first place with a time of 2:02.5. The remaining points for Niles were gathered through second and third places in the various events.

Zion-Benton upsets Lakers to lead No. Suburban

Led by the scoring of Ridenour and Christopherson who each tallied 11 points and a strong team defense Zion-Benton upset favored Crystal Lake last Friday and took over the North Suburban League leadership. The score of 33-28 was made close at the finish only by a desperate last period rally by the Lakers after trailing 29-15. Crystal Lake won their fourth straight frosh-soph victory by 40-29.

Coach Gowe's Warren Blue Devils shot baskets at a 36% clip last Friday to whip Lake Forest 35-32. DeLoof and Dada were outstanding for Warren. Robertson of Lake Forest copped scoring honors with 13 tallies. Warren led 14-13 at the half. Lake Forest won the frosh-soph game by 21-18.

Libertyville kept Grayslake in the league cellar with a 41-37 victory as Bill Wells scored 20 points for the Wildcats. Hitzman chalked up 18 points for the losers. Libertyville's frosh-sophs won by 24-15 to keep pace with Crystal Lake's junior team on an undefeated status.

Minus the services of Leroy Kalkbrenner, who had been averaging 12 points per game, the Ela Bears lost a 46-44 game to Grant's Bulldogs in the Northwest conference basketball race. Kalkbrenner suffered a fractured leg in practice at Ela High's gym on Thursday night.

Capt. Eddie Prouty's eight field goals led the scoring for Ela, while Center Johnson tallied 12 points to spark the victorious Grant quintet.

In the prelim, the Ela lightweights rolled over Grant's underclassmen, 40-23.

Arlington upsets Leyden five, 42-40

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

It wasn't supposed to be done, but the Arlington cage midgets did it last Friday night. Coach Gene Bell's team initiated their new warm up clothes and the home season with a thrilling 42-40 victory over a highly-rated Leyden High team.

In all pre-season dope Leyden was the team to win, but Arlington upset all this talk and downed the Eagles for the first time since 1947. The Cards were once again faced with a lack of height but kept hard on the boards and used their superior ball-handling to stall out most of the last quarter and emerge as the victors.

Arlington took off to a 3-0 lead early in the first period, and from that point on scoring was back and forth, with the Cards grabbing a 13-12 lead at the end of the quarter. Lloyd "Bulldog" Meyer and Bill Robinson paced Arlington's attack with 2 baskets each, while Eugene Busse and Orv Schaeffer provided able assistance with 3 and 2 points respectively. Five Leyden players hit the first quarter scoring column with Anderson getting 4 points from the pivot spot and Russ Rerucha, Ronald Quam, Richy Spera, and Sam Mascia each notching 2 counters for the Eagles' cause.

WITH EUGENE Busse getting 6 points, Schaeffer hitting 4 tallies, and Robinson and Meyer scoring 1 field goal apiece, Arlington outscored Leyden 14-11 in the second quarter to push out in front at the half, 27-23. Rerucha paced Leyden's attack with 6 markers. Mascia had 4 and Richy Spera tallied 1.

Arlington was tight on the free throw line during the first half, as the Cards hit only 1 out of 8 attempts.

Coach Bell's charges poured it on in the third period and outpointed Leyden 13-8 to take a 40-31 advantage going into the last quarter. All five of the Cardinal starters scored in this period with Schaeffer, Gordon Busse, Eugene Busse, and Robinson each scoring a field goal and a free-toss, and Meyer hitting a charity-toss. Rerucha tallied 4 more points in this quarter, Richy Spera hit 3 points, and Guhl scored a free-toss to account for the Eagles' 8 markers.

ARLINGTON tried a dangerous stalling type of game throughout the final period and racked up a season's low of 2 points for the quarter to Leyden's 9. Gordon Busse, 5'8" guard, provided plenty of thrills for the capacity crowd with a great exhibition of dribbling. The Cards stalled out the last 2 minutes, not taking one shot, and that gives you an idea of the quality of the ball-handling of the Cards. Mascia's 4 points paced Leyden's unsuccessful attempt to catch the Cards, and Arlington squeezed through to a 42-40 victory.

Rerucha grabbed high-scoring honors for the night with 13 points, one point more than Arlington's stellar center, Eugene Busse.

The Cards' Frosh-Soph team also notched its third straight victory by downing a top-flight Leyden outfit by a 38-33 count in the preliminary tilt.

THE JUNIOR CARDS had to overcome a 3-point last quarter deficit to whip these Eagles. Arlington led throughout the first half, holding a 10-7 lead in the first period and a 16-13 halftime advantage.

Leyden got hot in the third frame and outpointed the locals 12-6 to take a 25-22 lead advancing into the deciding period.

Harry Griffith then became deadly from the freethrow line and connected for 6 out of 7 freethrows in the final period. Jim Schwartz found the range from the field and hit 3 baskets, Jack Clark hit 3 points and Schulze 1, as the Cards came from behind to take the game out of the fire by outpointing Leyden 16-8 in this period for a 38-33 win.

Joe Vuelli of Leyden grabbed high point honors with 13 tallies.

Clark, Schwartz, and Griffith scored 11, 10, and 9 points respectively to pace the victors.

Stags vs Boston

Chicago Stags come home Sunday night to play the Boston Celtics in their first post-Christmas contest. The Stags' younger brothers, the Steers, will engage the New York Rens in the preliminary contest.

The Stags have two games on the road this week, Thursday night at Baltimore, and Saturday evening at New York. Then they move on to Boston the 28th, Providence the 30th, and Washington New Years night, before coming home again to meet the Knickerbockers January 2. The Globetrotters will be featured on that night, also.

Glenview to pay garbage court costs to speed decision

The Village of Glenview last week stepped into the picture to bring an early conclusion to the Citizens Action association's suit against the Metropolitan Disposal company for a temporary injunction to stop the dumping of Chicago garbage in the Lutter Brickyard Clayhole. The Board of Trustees voted to pay the fee of the Master in Chancery, Bernard Epstein, amounting to $4,6[illegible].80.

Payment of the fee has delayed turning over to Judge Leonard Reid, the voluminous testimony in the case taken by the Master during the summer.

Harvard youth killed by tree

Gene Sutherland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Sutherland, 811 W. Thompson St., Harvard, was killed instantly last week when a tree fell on him.

According to the information available at this writing, he and another chap were cutting down a tree on the grounds of the house of the manager of the Dean Milk Plant at Chemung. As the tree fell, Gene stepped into its path.

Arlington upsets Leyden five, 42-40

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

It wasn't supposed to be done, but the Arlington cage midgets did it last Friday night. Coach Gene Bell's team initiated their new warm up clothes and the home season with a thrilling 42-40 victory over a highly-rated Leyden High team.

In all pre-season dope Leyden was the team to win, but Arlington upset all this talk and downed the Eagles for the first time since 1947. The Cards were once again faced with a lack of height but kept hard on the boards and used their superior ball-handling to stall out most of the last quarter and emerge as the victors.

Arlington took off to a 3-0 lead early in the first period, and from that point on scoring was back and forth, with the Cards grabbing a 13-12 lead at the end of the quarter. Lloyd "Bulldog" Meyer and Bill Robinson paced Arlington's attack with 2 baskets each, while Eugene Busse and Orv Schaeffer provided able assistance with 3 and 2 points respectively. Five Leyden players hit the first quarter scoring column with Anderson getting 4 points from the pivot spot and Russ Rerucha, Ronald Quam, Richy Spera, and Sam Mascia each notching 2 counters for the Eagles' cause.

WITH EUGENE Busse getting 6 points, Schaeffer hitting 4 tallies, and Robinson and Meyer scoring 1 field goal apiece, Arlington outscored Leyden 14-11 in the second quarter to push out in front at the half, 27-23. Rerucha paced Leyden's attack with 6 markers. Mascia had 4 and Richy Spera tallied 1.

Arlington was tight on the free throw line during the first half, as the Cards hit only 1 out of 8 attempts.

Coach Bell's charges poured it on in the third period and outpointed Leyden 13-8 to take a 40-31 advantage going into the last quarter. All five of the Cardinal starters scored in this period with Schaeffer, Gordon Busse, Eugene Busse, and Robinson each scoring a field goal and a free-toss, and Meyer hitting a charity-toss. Rerucha tallied 4 more points in this quarter, Richy Spera hit 3 points, and Guhl scored a free-toss to account for the Eagles' 8 markers.

ARLINGTON tried a dangerous stalling type of game throughout the final period and racked up a season's low of 2 points for the quarter to Leyden's 9. Gordon Busse, 5'8" guard, provided plenty of thrills for the capacity crowd with a great exhibition of dribbling. The Cards stalled out the last 2 minutes, not taking one shot, and that gives you an idea of the quality of the ball-handling of the Cards. Mascia's 4 points paced Leyden's unsuccessful attempt to catch the Cards, and Arlington squeezed through to a 42-40 victory.

Rerucha grabbed high-scoring honors for the night with 13 points, one point more than Arlington's stellar center, Eugene Busse.

The Cards' Frosh-Soph team also notched its third straight victory by downing a top-flight Leyden outfit by a 38-33 count in the preliminary tilt.

THE JUNIOR CARDS had to overcome a 3-point last quarter deficit to whip these Eagles. Arlington led throughout the first half, holding a 10-7 lead in the first period and a 16-13 halftime advantage.

Leyden got hot in the third frame and outpointed the locals 12-6 to take a 25-22 lead advancing into the deciding period.

Harry Griffith then became deadly from the freethrow line and connected for 6 out of 7 freethrows in the final period. Jim Schwartz found the range from the field and hit 3 baskets, Jack Clark hit 3 points and Schulze 1, as the Cards came from behind to take the game out of the fire by outpointing Leyden 16-8 in this period for a 38-33 win.

Joe Vuelli of Leyden grabbed high point honors with 13 tallies.

Clark, Schwartz, and Griffith scored 11, 10, and 9 points respectively to pace the victors.

Park Ridge seeks to coordinate action on Central park

Approximately 500 Park Ridgians were in attendance Monday night at a meeting where a resolution was passed requesting the school board to refrain from negotiating any contract for leasing the Central school grounds until after October 1, 1949.

The Central school grounds are located at the triangle of Northwest highway to Touhy avenue in the city.

The school board had offered, in a letter to Clyde Bedell, a leader in the petition movement, to delay sale negotiations for 60 days. The group's resolution calls for a nine month period to allow for unified civic action.

In addition to asking for the nine-month period to settle the dispute the group resolution requested the city government to employ within two months, a well-qualified nationally recognized planning service for the purpose of preparing objectively, and free from local political prejudice, at least two tentative plans for the center of the city.

This, the resolution adds, would assure the school board and other taxing bodies of their respective rights and incomes. The cost of such planning should be shared jointly by the local taxing bodies, according to the resolution.

In the future,

It's not only the housewife for whom new, time-saving gadgets are being made. Industry too is getting its share of new devices: a machine that not only packages small parts in envelopes but also makes the envelopes . . . An inspection device that enables makers of turbine blades for jet engines to check new blades immediately against a master model . . . An automatic glue gun that cuts waste and increases production in furniture factories. This television industry is bringing on a host of new gadgets. Latest is an electric rotator that turns your antenna to the direction that gives best reception . . . Housewives are soon to be tempted by a new vacuum cleaner that picks up dust and dirt, sends it down the kitchen drain in a stream of water. Sounds complicated, but it's all done with a long, flexible rubber hose . . . The Scott-Atwater people are introducing an outboard motor with a gear-shift: reverse, neutral and forward.

Park Ridge seeks to coordinate action on Central park

Approximately 500 Park Ridgians were in attendance Monday night at a meeting where a resolution was passed requesting the school board to refrain from negotiating any contract for leasing the Central school grounds until after October 1, 1949.

The Central school grounds are located at the triangle of Northwest highway to Touhy avenue in the city.

The school board had offered, in a letter to Clyde Bedell, a leader in the petition movement, to delay sale negotiations for 60 days. The group's resolution calls for a nine month period to allow for unified civic action.

In addition to asking for the nine-month period to settle the dispute the group resolution requested the city government to employ within two months, a well-qualified nationally recognized planning service for the purpose of preparing objectively, and free from local political prejudice, at least two tentative plans for the center of the city.

This, the resolution adds, would assure the school board and other taxing bodies of their respective rights and incomes. The cost of such planning should be shared jointly by the local taxing bodies, according to the resolution.

In the future,

It's not only the housewife for whom new, time-saving gadgets are being made. Industry too is getting its share of new devices: a machine that not only packages small parts in envelopes but also makes the envelopes . . . An inspection device that enables makers of turbine blades for jet engines to check new blades immediately against a master model . . . An automatic glue gun that cuts waste and increases production in furniture factories. This television industry is bringing on a host of new gadgets. Latest is an electric rotator that turns your antenna to the direction that gives best reception . . . Housewives are soon to be tempted by a new vacuum cleaner that picks up dust and dirt, sends it down the kitchen drain in a stream of water. Sounds complicated, but it's all done with a long, flexible rubber hose . . . The Scott-Atwater people are introducing an outboard motor with a gearshift: reverse, neutral and forward.

At DeKalb

In the list of honor students for the fall quarter released recently by the register of Northern Illinois State Teachers college, there was one from Arlington Heights. The listing includes all students who have at least a "B" average based on the total number of college credits at the close of the fall quarter.

The honor student from Arlington Heights is William Kleiner, sophomore.

At DeKalb

In the list of honor students for the fall quarter released recently by the registrar of Northern Illinois State Teachers College, there was one from Palatine, Gilbert J. Hayes, sophomore.

At Carthage

Avon Wellendorf, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Paul Wellendorf, 341 Walnut St., Wood Dale, and her fiance, Edward Crismore, of Uniondale, Ind., were the lucky winners of a story about themselves in the Carthage college weekly publication, The Indian. This included a banner headline, picture and biographical sketch.

Their ticket stub was drawn from among many others during the floor show of a dance Dec. 3 sponsored by the journalism students of the college.

Miss Wellendorf, a sophomore, is undecided as to her major subject but the choice is between history or English. Mr. Crismore, a senior, is a major in English and has minors in art and history.

The story of this well-known Carthage college couple appeared in the Dec. 13 issue. The banner headline said, "Avon-Ed are college twosome."

At Ill. Wesleyan

Miss Barbara L. Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Page, Route 1, Arlington Heights, was a member of the decorations committee of Indee Women's semi-formal dance held recently. "Symphony in Snow" was the theme of the event at Illinois Wesleyan University.

Miss Page, a freshman at Wesleyan, was previously graduated from Arlington Heights high school.

Who says college can't be fun?

Water skiing is one of the most popular sports for the coeds at Florida Southern College, Lakeland, Fla. The girls become proficient skiers on the briny deep after about two classes a week for six months.

Various aquatic stunts are arranged and the top water skiers perform various regatta at the college's lake. Among the top-flight girl water skiers at Florida Southern are: Left to right: Dorothy Kirchoff, Mt. Prospect, and Dolores Kolf, Chicago.

License plate or card table, that full house is just as hard to get

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett has announced that more that 200,000 persons, exclusive of those who according to law are entitled to reassignment of a previous year's license number, have sent in requests for "special" license numbers.

"Naturally, it will be impossible to satisfy all these requests," Secretary Barrett said. "We try in all cases to fill requests for "specials" but we have not yet found any way in which we can give the same number to several hundred persons."

Clerks who are handling the annual reassignment and request task state that thousands of persons who are expecting a four or five figure plate in their Christmas stocking will be disappointed because 85 per cent of all numbers in the 100,000 class are reassignment numbers.

Secretary Barret stated that in addition to the upwards of 200,000 "special" requests, his office has already handled 150,000 reassignments.

"AT LEAST 50,000 applicants for five figure plates with combinations of phone numbers, house addresses, service serial numbers, 'lucky' numbers etc. will be disappointed," Barrett said, "Because there just aren't enough numbers to keep everyone happy." Wherever possible we try to come as close to a person's request as possible, sometimes by adding a digit either in front of or behind the number asked for."

Secretary Barrett stressed the point that early application for a "special" number did not necessarily assure the applicant of receiving it.

"Some persons are quite 'put out' when they do not receive their favorite number and castigate this office because they feel they should have first choice because 'my application was in your office away back in October.'

"WE MUST MAKE the public understand," Mr. Barrett continued, "that NO applications except those for reassignments are acted upon until after December 1, the legal deadline for requesting a repeat on last year's number."

Mr. Barrett asked the automobile-owning public to "try to understand the tremendous task involved in filling reassignment and special applications and stated that "the plate on your car is your contribution toward keeping Illinois highways in shape for all cars—whether they bear a one or seven figured license number.

At Ill. Wesleyan

Miss Peggy Kruse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kruse, Wheeling, appeared as a vocal soloist on the annual Christmas musicale program presented recently by Sigma Alpha Iota, national music sorority at Illinois Wesleyan university.

"Birthday of a King" by Neidlinger was the selection offered by Miss Kruse; other numbers on the program were presented by the SAI chorus under the direction of Miss Betty Jeanne Hollman, St. Louis, and by various solo and ensemble groups.

Immediately following the musicale, a reception was held for all the guests including patronesses, alumni, faculty and administration members at Wesleyan, and other special guests.

Miss Kruse, a junior in the school of music at Wesleyan, is majoring in voice and minoring in piano; she is a member of the collegiate choir, university chorus, Masquers, Gathea and Green Medalian.

First Home of Paddock Publications

The Palatine Enterprise, first paper to be purchased by H. C. Paddock, was published in the above one-room building. It was located on the present site of the Public Service building, North Bothwell street, Palatine.

It was the only structure between the railroad track and Wilson street. The rent paid by the newspaper owner was $3.00 a month. Mr. Paddock replaced the kerosene lights with gasoline lights, which were being adopted at that time by progressive business places. The one job printing press was operated by foot power.

About the same time, the village of Palatine installed large gasoline lights suspended in the center of street intersections. Herman Schrader, 115 North Plum Grove, drove around town in a one horse cart, lowering the light from the corner pole and pumping air into the gasoline tanks. When the air gave out about midnight, the lights went out. Mr. Schrader also served as night policeman, receiving $40 a month for both jobs.

The second home of the Enterprise in Palatine was the building now occupied by Geo. Vehe's cigar store, where a Fairbanks Morse gas engine was installed to operate two job printing presses.

Editors worked long hours before arrival of modern machinery

The growth of Paddock Publications from one newspaper, housed in a small wooden building and a circulation of a few hundred to the present six newspapers, a modern newspaper plant and a circulation of 11,000 is not phenomenal. It has been a natural growth, the newspapers keeping pace with the growth of the communities which they served.

Going back to seventy-five years ago, G. E. Sarlie established the Cook County Herald, first suburban newspaper in Cook County. It was the parent paper of the present newspapers in the Paddock family. In its early days the Palatine edition was called the Palatine Herald. The oldest copy in existence, March 21, 1873, will be later reproduced in this newspaper.

FROM FILES of the paper of 1875, John Holden and W. C. Williams formed a partnership, purchased the paper and operated it until April, 1875 when Holden became sole owner. Mr. Williams owned and operated a printing shop on the second floor of the present Landmeier building, corner Dunton and Campbell streets, Arlington Heights. In July of that year he started a competing newspaper, "The Advertiser."

Williams later secured the Palatine Herald, publishing it with the Cook County Herald which he reacquired, printing it at Arlington Heights. In the meantime W. George Alden started the Palatine Enterprise in 1878. His office was on the northside of Wood street, west of Brockway street. Paddock Publications has a scrap book of printing done by Alden, the printed samples covering events in Barrington, Palatine and Arlington Heights.

IN 1892 Mr. Williams sold his Cook County Herald to George Bugbee, who printed it in tabloid size on a 12x18 job press. In the meantime Williams had secured the Palatine Enterprise.

During the 1880's the territory covered by the Cook County Herald lessened as individual newspapers were established in Des Plaines, Barrington, Crystal Lake and other towns.

In 1890 the Barrington Review established an office in Palatine, and started the Palatine Review, which was edited by A. G. Smith who had opened a job printing shop. The Review became the dominating local paper.

Mr. Williams' interest in the Enterprise became less and less, spending the greater part of his time operating a job printing office in Jefferson Park. He was looking for a buyer for the Palatine paper. He found one in H. C. Paddock. The new owner was a natural optimist, but it was not long before he discovered he had a newspaper, but little good will.

ACQUIRING PRESTIGE was no easy task. The first edition printed by H. C. Paddock & Sons contained only two columns of local news, hand set in the Palatine office.

Without sufficient funds or space for a newspaper press Mr. Paddock purchased a Washington hand press, printing two pages thereon, the other six pages being ready print furnished by the Chicago Newspaper Union. The operation of the hand press was an arduous task and after a few weeks was abandoned.

Unable to make a dent in Palatine village business, Mr. Paddock turned to the German farmers of Palatine and Schaumburg townships, many of whom had never read an English newspaper. Schaumburg seemed virgin territory, but its supervisor tried to discourage the editor by the information that "only five families in the township took a Chicago English newspaper."

PADDOCK was not discouraged. It was sink or swim for his newspaper enterprise. His visits among the Germans bore fruit. He had accepted their hospitality, had eaten many a German meal off the kitchen table; had gotten their subscriptions for either cash or a bag of oats. The subscription list of the Enterprise began to grow. Advertisers were quick to take advantage of the opportunity to reach these German families.

Frequently a 1948 reader of Paddock Publications will come into the business office and tell of the pleasure their mother took in playing host to Editor Paddock. They also have some amusing tales to tell of Paddock's horse and the colt that frequently ran along side of its mother.

As long as there was a light burning at an unvisited farm, the editor would not start for home. Those last visits were frequently too far from Palatine for the tired editor and his horse. At such times the "nearest" farmer deemed it a privilege to extend an invitation to stay over night and the newspaper man was always ready to accept.

Third Home of the Enterprise

Above building on the present site of the State Bank Building, was occupied fifty years ago by the Mosser drug store (operated by an uncle of Robert Mosser, 129 N. Cedar Rd.) The ice cream season opened in Palatine at the Mosser soda fountain on Memorial day and the last soda was served on Labor Day.

The real estate sign on the building represented the firm of Schierding & Paddock (They did not do much business). Half of the front part of the building was leased for a time as a show room for the Velie automobile, for which W. E. Schering and the late August Hackbarth were the dealers. The Enterprise occupied the building about four years during which time half of the $25 rent was paid by the late J. H. Toynton, who took this method to keep out a possible competing drug store.

Dr. Stark's first office was on the second floor of the above building. He installed a hospital bed in one small room—the start of the present Palatine Community hospital.

Present home of Paddock Publications in Arlington Heights

The above building, 56x125, home of Paddock Publications, Inc., was erected within 60 days in 1938.

The building, which was considered ample for any anticipated growth, has become crowded within ten years. Number of employees has been nearly tripled while the circulation of the Paddock papers has more than doubled and the size of the paper averages 2½ times more than in 1938.

German edition wins readers in Schaumburg and Elk Grove

THE ENTERPRISING newspaper editor, looking for new methods to increase that subscription list hit upon the plan of publishing a half German edition, charging the reader 25c additional. (the regular subscription price was then $1.25) This half German edition was ready-print. first printed by the Staatz Zeitung and later in Milwaukee. It was continued until the start of World War I when David Paddock, youngest son of the editor, who had enlisted in the navy, urged his dad to drop the edition.

Dreams of more territory again asserted itself in the mind of H. C. Paddock. He borrowed $275 and in 1899 purchased the Cook County Herald at Arlington Heights from Mr. Bugbee. With the subscription price he acquired some machinery and equipment housed in a building near the present Masny market.

A son of Louis Helm operated a job printing plant in his father's lumber yard. Mr. Paddock purchased it for $300, again on borrowed capital.

For a number of years the Palatine plant and Arlington Heights office were separately maintained, the job printing being done in Palatine and the news composition in Arlington Heights.

THE ACTUAL PRINTING of the Cook County Herald and Palatine Enterprise was in Chicago. The circulation grew to such an extent that the printed papers could no longer be carried from the place of printing to the Northwestern depot on the street cars, so a drayman was hired. It was not long before street car conductors and railroad men objected to handling so many packages of papers and it became necessary to tip conductors, depot gateman, and the express messenger.

Property values were low in those days and the newspaper owner was able to purchase of Geo. Allison a wooden building for $1200 on the present site of Arlington Appliance, Arlington Heights. A newspaper press was installed and in 1916 a linotype machine. That was the publication home until a fire Thanksgiving Day, 1938, partially destroyed the building.

Mr. Paddock's activities extended beyong the Cook-DuPage county line in 1903 when he established the DuPage County Register and later purchased for $50 each, the Itasca Herald and Bensenville Record, which were edited out of Mt. Clare.

HE CONSIDERED "his area" any place that he could reach with his horse and buggy and afterwards it was the faithful Dodge that took him to such distant places as Morton Grove, Niles Center and the farming area near Norwood Park.

His first experience as an auto owner was a one cylinder four wheel buggy-auto wished on him by an Arlington Heights mail carrier who was ready for a more modern car. The story of that highwheeler is passed-by here, but it was frequently abandoned by its owner until the next day when he would return and again coax it into operation.

In 1905 Stuart R. Paddock acquired the Palatine Enterprise and set up a job printing office in the present quarters of the Vehe cigar store, machinery being operated by a gasoline engine.

THE THIRD HOME of the Enterprise in Palatine was the present site of the State Bank building. When a drug store folded up, the remaining druggist in town suggested to the Enterprise owner that if he moved to the empty building he would pay half the rent. The deal was made.

During World War I there was a shortage of printers and father and son decided to again unite efforts. The Palatine plant was moved to Arlington Heights.

The second generation, Stuart R. Paddock and Charles S. Paddock purchased their father's interest in 1922 for fifty times the amount their dad paid for the Enterprise in 1898.

IMPROVEMENTS have followed improvements. Additional equipment and a fire made necessary larger quarters and the present building was erected in the summer of 1939. Ground was officially broken in July. Sept. 1 was moving day.

Visitors to the present office frequently remark, "you'll need a larger building." Perhaps they are right, but only time will tell. The space of the business office has been doubled. Number of employees in the past nine years has tripled.

Paddock Publications have done a lot of growing in the past 50 years. Its future growth depends upon the third generation.

The fourth generation is on the way—yet too young to realize the newspaper heritage that awaits them.

The print shop in 1922, 8 employees

Just Around the Corner

DEAR JANE:

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them."

The above quotation was taken from the second chapter, according to the gospel of St. Luke.

May this message bring, and keep, the real meaning of Christmas in our hearts.

With love, Mary.

SUE FOR INJURIES

Edwin J. Rowley, Sr., Edwin Jr., and Gladys Rowley have sued Albert Glass and L. and Jane Hopkins, in the Superior court for big damages for injuries in an automobile accident caused by horses in the road. They were riding on Dundee road near Landwehr road in Northbrook. Glass owned property there where the Hopkins had horses pastured. It is charged that two horses were running loose on the road and the car collided with them damaging it and injuring the passengers. Gladys asks $40,000 damages, Edwin Jr., $50,000 and Edwin Sr., $500 for damage to the car.

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

PREJUDICED WRITER

I am a constant reader of the Herald, and I think it is a very fine paper, as it has a little bit of news from everywhere.

For the life of me I can't understand why you have such a prejudiced editor for your sports column.

Just in last week's issue he wouldn't give Northbrook the credit for being in third place; he had to put them in sixth place. The points they scored show they belonged in third place.

He may call the Northbrook team an inexperienced team but they have and always have had more experience than Palatine teams will ever have. I feel, give a team credit where there's credit due them.

Brides to be

Marriage licenses were issued this week to the following residents of the north suburbs by County Clerk Michael J. Flynn:

Matthew P. Schon, 464 Northwest Highway, Park Ridge, and Elsie E. Anfeldt, Box 126, Wheeling.

Donald Steffens, Wilmette, and Betty Widmer, Northfield.

Arthur W. Ramsdell and Gertrude Clark, both of Glenview.

Charles W. Brown Jr. and Ann Gartner, both of Des Plaines.

William Boyd Jr., Palatine, and Mrs. Elizabeth Beatty, Chicago.

William C. Turner Jr., Mount Prospect, and Patricia Day, Arlington Heights.

William Wagner, Chicago, and Grace Otto, Arlington Heights.

Gerald English, Sac City, Ia., and Vivian Moehling Mount Prospect.

Leif Maseng, Mount Prospect and Betty Hagen, Park Ridge.

William Janness, Wheeling, Mrs. Janie Anderson, Des Plaines.

John McVeigh and Geraldine Almeroth, both of Skokie.

It Happened Here . . .

There was a rule against bringing candy into the school building; some of the older children evaded the rule by carrying cough drops to class; surely no teacher would be so cruel as to forbid these. The cough drop habit spread to the kindergarten, and one small boy proudly displayed his package and popped a lozenge into his mouth. A few seconds later he was spluttering and gagging, looking for a place to dispose of his contraband candy. "It tastes like casser oil," he wailed in spasms of revulsion. The bare sugestion of caster oil was a sufficient deterrent for the rest of the kindergartners . . . She said it took her forty-five minutes to get down town by street car, a trip she could usually make in twenty minutes. How come? Well, the first car had to go to the barns, requiring transfers, the second only went so far, more transfers, and the conductor fell off of the third one. "That never happened before—another set of transfers, that's how come."

S'Amuser

INDIGNANT EDITOR

Paddock Publications is passing on to readers a letter from the editor of a Carpentersville magazine who got all hot and bothered over a parking ticket, and the reply from Chief Skoog who returned the man's dollar.

So that the public will know that all editors are not that way Paddock Publications state that its editor recently paid a dollar fine in Arlington Heights for illegal parking and also paid a similar fine in Cary. This editor now watches his parking in whatever town he visits, even Palatine, the town of the meters.

Incidentally, Mr. Carpentersville editor, there are hundreds of local autoists who have paid their dollar for the offense to which you object, including Mr. Franzen, himself.

Village of Arlington Heights
Police Department
Gentlemen:

These notices and a request for a dollar are all quite mysterious to me. I called on Mr. Arthur Franzen, president of the Arlington Heights National Bank, a few days ago; parked my car away from the center of your village, about opposite to where Hrdlicka's Restaurant used to be.

It was some time before I could see Mr. Franzen, and I was detained in the bank for some time; perhaps an hour or more, as Mr. Franzen is a friend of twenty years' standing. I came back; got into my car, and left; and until I received these communications, I knew nothing of an arrest notice; but it is a whole lot cheaper to send you a dollar than it is to come up and find out what it is all about.

If it is a crime to park on the public streets of Arlington Heights, I am sure that sufficient notice should be given to non-residents who come to your city, either at the city limits or otherwise publicly posted so as to put the poor devils on notice.

I would suggest that a signboard at the very entrance to your town, be painted—an orange background with black letters — out of bounds. Or it could be done the way it is done in the army: off limits.

Or you could plainly warn them: "Make your stay in our town of short duration or get arrested."

However, here's my buck, and if this is your usual custom, I would suggest to your business community that it's a darn poor way to make friends!

You might at least warn a guy that he will be "pinched".

L. F.
Leonard Fowler
Editor and Publisher

Mr. Leonard Fowler,
Editor and Publisher.
Dear Mr. Fowler:

We have your communication of "feigned" indignity dated December 14th, 1948, enclosing check for one dollar, covering parking violation No. 1094 on December 6th, 1948.

In the Spirit of the approaching Yule Tide we are returning your check hoping thus to emphasize the purpose of traffic regulations be they here, Elgin or in the hinterlands of Carpentersville.

Arlington Heights does not make mercenary arrests, but the tempo of the times requires strict law enforcement particularly in the regulation of traffic much of which emanates in the rural areas. Because of limited parking areas we are forced to ration parking time on certain streets and all of these restricted areas are properly posted and patrolled.

We sincerely regret any injury to the sensitivities of visitors and trust that an application of your slogan as carried in your letter heads, "free — white and twenty-one" can be made here, here,

Free—Without special privilege.

White—Fair and impartial.

21—Legal Maturity and Responsibility.

Drop in and see us on your next visit to Arlington Heights, perhaps we can both profit by a frank discussion of mutual problems.

Carl H. Skoog,
Chief of Police.

FARMING IN THE SOUTH

I recently returned from a visit to my two brothers in Mississippi when I had my eyes opened at the way that farming is conducted down there. I am passing on to northern farmers a few of the things I learned.

In the particular part of Mississippi that I visited the rain fall is between 60 and 75 inches a year. One of my brothers tried for two years to farm the northern way and failed. To prevent the rotting of seed from the excess moisture, the seed is planted in 6" ridges a foot wide.

After my brother learned how to do it, he won first prize at the county fair for quality of his corn. Growers of corn down there have organized a 100-bushel club. To qualify for membership a farmer must raise 100 bushels of corn to an acre. My brother is in the 90 bushel class, but hopes to reach a 100 next year, which has been obtained by a dozen farmers.

I accompanied my second brother, an agricultural instructor, on his trips to the GI students in three neighboring counties and found that there are a lot of GIs who are showing little ambition for farming while drawing $90 a month subsistance while being trained. They are using the money for autos and modern household appliances.

A $50 horse here will bring $125 in the south. Horse flesh goes up in value in proportion to the increase in the price of tractors.

I found a growing dislike of parking meters through the south. I am glad that the Arlington Heights merchants stood out against them.

While visiting relatives in Iowa in November I received first hand information from the farmers of that state why Truman won the election. While grain prices have dropped nearly a half, price of machinery is still going upward. Dewey gave no promises to remedy the situation. Truman did. The result of the election showed that the people who feed the nation, also have a voice in electing the men who run it.

Naval enlistments

Navy recruiting officials have announced applications for enlistment in the inactive branch of the Naval Reserve are again being accepted at the Navy Recruiting station, 844 North Rush street. Men in the 17-40 age group are especially desired, many of this group can later qualify for the organized component of the reserve. Veterans will be enlisted in ratings equivalent to those held at time of release from active duty.

Greetings

TO OUR FRIENDS AND THOSE ASSOCIATED WITH US DURING THE YEARS, OUR WARMEST REGARDS AND MOST SINCERE WISHES THAT THIS BE A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS, AND THE COMING YEAR A MOST HAPPY ONE.

THE ENTERPRISING newspaper editor, looking for new methods to increase that subscription list hit upon the plan of publishing a half German edition, charging the reader 25c additional. (the regular subscription price was then $1.25) This half German edition was ready-print, first printed by the Staatz Zeitung and later in Milwaukee. It was continued until the start of World War I when David Paddock, youngest son of the editor, who had enlisted in the navy, urged his dad to drop the edition.

Dreams of more territory again asserted itself in the mind of H. C. Paddock. He borrowed $275 and in 1899 purchased the Cook County Herald at Arlington Heights from Mr. Bugbee. With the subscription price he acquired some machinery and equipment housed in a building near the present Masny market.

A son of Louis Helm operated a job printing plant in his father's lumber yard. Mr. Paddock purchased it for $300, again on borrowed capital.

For a number of years the Palatine plant and Arlington Heights office were separately maintained, the job printing being done in Palatine and the news composition in Arlington Heights.

THE ACTUAL PRINTING of the Cook County Herald and Palatine Enterprise was in Chicago. The circulation grew to such an extent that the printed papers could no longer be carried from the place of printing to the Northwestern depot on the street cars, so a drayman was hired. It was not long before street car conductors and railroad men objected to handling so many packages of papers and it became necessary to tip conductors, depot gateman, and the express messenger.

Property values were low in those days and the newspaper owner was able to purchase of Geo. Allison a wooden building for $1200 on the present site of Arlington Appliance, Arlington Heights. A newspaper press was installed and in 1916 a linotype machine. That was the publication home until a fire Thanksgiving Day, 1938, partially destroyed the building.

Mr. Paddock's activities extended beyong the Cook-DuPage county line in 1903 when he established the DuPage County Register and later purchased for $50 each, the Itasca Herald and Bensenville Record, which were edited out of Mt. Clare.

HE CONSIDERED "his area" any place that he could reach with his horse and buggy and afterwards it was the faithful Dodge that took him to such distant places as Morton Grove, Niles Center and the farming area near Norwood Park.

His first experience as an auto owner was a one cylinder four wheel buggy-auto wished on him by an Arlington Heights mail carrier who was ready for a more modern car. The story of that highwheeler is passed-by here, but it was frequently abandoned by its owner until the next day when he would return and again coax it into operation.

In 1905 Stuart R. Paddock acquired the Palatine Enterprise and set up a job printing office in the present quarters of the Vehe cigar store, machinery being operated by a gasoline engine.

THE THIRD HOME of the Enterprise in Palatine was the present site of the State Bank building. When a drug store folded up, the remaining druggist in town suggested to the Enterprise owner that if he moved to the empty building he would pay half the rent. The deal was made.

During World War I there was a shortage of printers and father and son decided to again unite efforts. The Palatine plant was moved to Arlington Heights.

The second generation, Stuart R. Paddock and Charles S. Paddock purchased their father's interest in 1922 for fifty times the amount their dad paid for the Enterprise in 1898.

IMPROVEMENTS have followed improvements. Additional equipment and a fire made necessary larger quarters and the present building was erected in the summer of 1939. Ground was officially broken in July. Sept. 1 was moving day.

Visitors to the present office frequently remark, "you'll need a larger building." Perhaps they are right, but only time will tell. The space of the business office has been doubled. Number of employees in the past nine years has tripled.

Paddock Publications have done a lot of growing in the past 50 years. Its future growth depends upon the third generation.

The fourth generation is on the way—yet too young to realize the newspaper heritage that awaits them.

Just Around the Corner

DEAR JANE:

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddennly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them."

The above quotation was taken from the second chapter, according to the gospel of St. Luke.

May this message bring, and keep, the real meaning of Christmas in our hearts.

With love, Mary.

SUE FOR INJURIES

Edwin J. Rowley, Sr., Edwin Jr., and Gladys Rowley have sued Albert Glass and L. and Jane Hopkins, in the Superior court for big damages for injuries in an automobile accident caused by horses in the road. They were riding on Dundee road near Landwehr road in Northbrook. Glass owned property there where the Hopkins had horses pastured. It is charged that two horses were running loose on the road and the car collided with them damaging it and injuring the passengers. Gladys asks $40,000 damages, Edwin Jr., $50,000 and Edwin Sr., $500 for damage to the car.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

PREJUDICED WRITER

I am a constant reader of the Herald, and I think it is a very fine paper, as it has a little bit of news from everywhere.

For the life of me I can't understand why you have such a prejudiced editor for your sports column.

Just in last week's issue he wouldn't give Northbrook the credit for being in third place; he had to put them in sixth place. The points they scored show they belonged in third place.

He may call the Northbrook team an inexperienced team but they have and always have had more experience than Palatine teams will ever have. I feel, give a team credit where there's credit due them.

Brides to be

Marriage licenses were issued this week to the following residents of the north suburbs by County Clerk Michael J. Flynn:

Matthew P. Schon, 464 Northwest Highway, Park Ridge, and Elsie E. Anfeldt, Box 126, Wheeling.

Donald Steffens, Wilmette, and Betty Widmer, Northfield.

Arthur W. Ramsdell and Gertrude Clark, both of Glenview.

Charles W. Brown Jr. and Ann Gartner, both of Des Plaines.

William Boyd Jr., Palatine, and Mrs. Elizabeth Beatty, Chicago.

William C. Turner Jr., Mount Prospect, and Patricia Day, Arlington Heights.

William Wagner, Chicago, and Grace Otto, Arlington Heights.

Gerald English, Sac City, Ia., and Vivian Moehling Mount Prospect.

Leif Maseng, Mount Prospect and Betty Hagen, Park Ridge.

William Janness, Wheeling, Mrs. Janie Anderson, Des Plaines.

It Happened Here . . .

There was a rule against bringing candy into the school building; some of the older children evaded the rule by carrying cough drops to class; surely no teacher would be so cruel as to forbid these. The cough drop habit spread to the kindergarten, and one small boy proudly displayed his package and popped a lozenge into his mouth. A few seconds later he was spluttering and gagging, looking for a place to dispose of his contraband candy. "It tastes like casser oil," he wailed in spasms of revulsion. The bare sugestion of caster oil was a sufficient deterrent for the rest of the kindergartners . . . She said it took her forty-five minutes to get down town by street car, a trip she could usually make in twenty minutes. How come? Well, the first car had to go to the barns, requiring transfers, the second only went so far, more transfers, and the conductor fell off of the third one. "That never happened before—another set of transfers, that's how come."

INDIGNANT EDITOR

Paddock Publications is passing on to readers a letter from the editor of a Carpentersville magazine who got all hot and bothered over a parking ticket, and the reply from Chief Skoog who returned the man's dollar.

So that the public will know that all editors are not that way Paddock Publications state that its editor recently paid a dollar fine in Arlington Heights for illegal parking and also paid a similar fine in Cary. This editor now watches his parking in whatever town he visits, even Palatine, the town of the meters.

Incidentally, Mr. Carpentersville editor, there are hundreds of local autoists who have paid their dollar for the offense to which you object, including Mr. Franzen, himself.

Village of Arlington Heights
Police Department
Gentlemen:

These notices and a request for a dollar are all quite mysterious to me. I called on Mr. Arthur Franzen, president of the Arlington Heights National Bank, a few days ago; parked my car away from the center of your village, about opposite to where Hrdlicka's Restaurant used to be.

It was some time before I could see Mr. Franzen, and I was detained in the bank for some time; perhaps an hour or more, as Mr. Franzen is a friend of twenty years' standing. I came back; got into my car, and left; and until I received these communications, I knew nothing of an arrest notice; but it is a whole lot cheaper to send you a dollar than it is to come up and find out what it is all about.

If it is a crime to park on the public streets of Arlington Heights, I am sure that sufficient notice should be given to non-residents who come to your city, either at the city limits or otherwise publicly posted so as to put the poor devils on notice.

I would suggest that a signboard at the very entrance to your town, be painted—an orange background with black letters — out of bounds. Or it could be done the way it is done in the army: off limits.

Or you could plainly warn them: "Make your stay in our town of short duration or get arrested."

However, here's my buck, and if this is your usual custom, I would suggest to your business community that it's a darn poor way to make friends!

You might at least warn a guy that he will be "pinched".

L. F.
Leonard Fowler
Editor and Publisher

Mr. Leonard Fowler,
Editor and Publisher.
Dear Mr. Fowler:

We have your communication of "feigned" indignity dated December 14th, 1948, enclosing check for one dollar, covering parking violation No. 1094 on December 6th, 1948.

In the Spirit of the approaching Yule Tide we are returning your check hoping thus to emphasize the purpose of traffic regulations be they here, Elgin or in the hinterlands of Carpentersville.

Arlington Heights does not make mercenary arrests, but the tempo of the times requires strict law enforcement particularly in the regulation of traffic much of which emanates in the rural areas. Because of limited parking areas we are forced to ration parking time on certain streets and all of these restricted areas are properly posted and patrolled.

We sincerely regret any injury to the sensitivities of visitors and trust that an application of your slogan as carried in your letter heads, "free — white and twenty-one" can be made here, here,

Free—Without special privilege.

White—Fair and impartial.

21—Legal Maturity and Responsibility.

Drop in and see us on your next visit to Arlington Heights, perhaps we can both profit by a frank discussion of mutual problems.

Carl H. Skoog,
Chief of Police.

FARMING IN THE SOUTH

I recently returned from a visit to my two brothers in Mississippi when I had my eyes opened at the way that farming is conducted down there. I am passing on to northern farmers a few of the things I learned.

In the particular part of Mississippi that I visited the rain fall is between 60 and 75 inches a year. One of my brothers tried for two years to farm the northern way and failed. To prevent the rotting of seed from the excess moisture, the seed is planted in 6" ridges a foot wide.

After my brother learned how to do it, he won first prize at the county fair for quality of his corn. Growers of corn down there have organized a 100-bushel club. To qualify for membership a farmer must raise 100 bushels of corn to an acre. My brother is in the 90 bushel class, but hopes to reach a 100 next year, which has been obtained by a dozen farmers.

I accompanied my second brother, an agricultural instructor, on his trips to the GI students in three neighboring counties and found that there are a lot of GIs who are showing little ambition for farming while drawing $90 a month subsistance while being trained. They are using the money for autos and modern household appliances.

A $50 horse here will bring $125 in the south. Horse flesh goes up in value in proportion to the increase in the price of tractors.

I found a growing dislike of parking meters through the south. I am glad that the Arlington Heights merchants stood out against them.

While visiting relatives in Iowa in November I received first hand information from the farmers of that state why Truman won the election. While grain prices have dropped nearly a half, price of machinery is still going upward. Dewey gave no promises to remedy the situation. Truman did. The result of the election showed that the people who feed the nation, also have a voice in electing the men who run it.

Naval enlistments

Navy recruiting officials have announced applications for enlistment in the inactive branch of the Naval Reserve are again being accepted at the Navy Recruiting station, 844 North Rush street. Men in the 17-40 age group are especially desired, many of this group can later qualify for the organized component of the reserve. Veterans will be enlisted in ratings equivalent to those held at time of release from active duty.

Greetings

TO OUR FRIENDS AND THOSE ASSOCIATED WITH US DURING THE YEARS, OUR WARMEST REGARDS AND MOST SINCERE WISHES THAT THIS BE A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS, AND THE COMING YEAR A MOST HAPPY ONE.

TALES ★ OF THE STREET

● MILD

Maybe it hasn't been June in January, but we write this ten days ahead of publication date, it surely feels like April in December.

The thermometer is around 50 degrees, the air is soft, there is a haze around the horizon, the birds still here, are chirping ing merrily, and it feels like a typical mild April day.

Maybe by the time this is printed, snow will be two or three feet deep and old man winter may have us in his grip in earnest, but right now it's like a beautiful spring day. It makes a person feel he ought to be out starting the garden or at least planning it.

With this sort of weather, who cares whether he ever sees Florida or California. California, by the way, has been having earthquakes, and we hear the smogs and fogs out there have been pretty thick this fall.

And down in Florida they have had so much growing weather with high temperatures that the citrus crop isn't ripening up the way it should, and the flavor isn't what it's supposed to be.

So, even if we do get the real winter weather we'll certainly have before long, this isn't the worst climate in the world after all.

Fred Oswald, Palatine park district engineer, says he's glad they didn't get that park water main hooked up in time to flood the skating rink during that cold snap.

The cold weather didn't last long and they'd have done all that work for nothing. This mild weather has given them a chance to get those mains laid, and when a lasting cold spell comes along they'll be ready to flood that park rink for skaters.

● BLUE STREAKS

There seem to be many bluejays hanging around this winter, and their gay plumage flashing in and out among the drab bushes adds a pleasing touch of color to the landscape. One lady asked us the other day, "Where are those Cardinals you're always talking about?" I assured her they were around.

She said they always had some around their feeding station, but they painted the feeding platform and away went the Cardinals. Maybe the flashy redbirds don't like things changed.

They were trying to lure them back by putting out sunflower seeds (the Cardinals' favorite food), but all that had been attracted so far was a big flock of sparrows. Birds have had an easy time so far this winter. They can pick up food almost anywhere, but wait until snow comes and ice covers the weed stalks. Then you can watch the various kinds of winter birds start coming into feeding stations where they have been before.

● CHRISTMAS

Almost everyone in this part of the country is hoping for snow for Christmas.

It doesn't seem just like Christmas without that stuff on the ground, so that youngsters can use those new sleds and maybe some of the older folks go coasting.

Down in the Southland where they never think of snow for Christmas or any other time, they are getting ready to celebrate Xmas the way we celebrate Fourth of July. Firecrackers and fireworks will be popping all over the land down there as part of the Xmas celebration.

To a "Northerner" down in that country at this season the fireworks seem strange, but not to Southerners. On Christmas morning, the colored help will be making the rounds of the folks they work for and will be shouting "Christmas gift" instead of "Merry Christmas" and then the employers will start handing out Christmas presents to the help.

We remember one Christmas day when a group of us had rigged up a tennis match on a court we had built deep in the Alabama woods. The colored folk called the tennis court "the ball yard" and when we started the match the court was ringed by colored followers and their cheers for Mr. Ted, Mr. Walter, Mr. Harold and Mr. Tom. Whenever one of us made a good shot, they sounded like a real rooting section.

One Northerner who was present said it was the strangest athletic event he'd ever seen. Well, no one, players or rooters, were worrying about civil rights. Everyone was happy and having a good time.

● STILL TIME

There is still time to do that late Christmas shopping and to do it at home.

Local stores still have plenty of things on hand that will make fine, desirable Christmas presents, and chances are you can save on the price and save yourself from being pushed around by big crowds.

Some folks don't seem to feel they have gone Christmas shopping if they don't have the experience of battling big city crowds and coming home all tired out. Why get all tired out? Shop in comfort in your own community. Local merchants will be glad to see you.

● SHORTEST DAYS

The shortest days are here and winter is about to start.

But when those days begin to get a little longer, when it gets light earlier in the morning and stays light later in the evening, it always seems we are "over the hump" and headed for spring.

Sure, there are several months which can give us trouble, plenty of snow, ice, sleet and cold weather, but at least the darkest days are behind us and we're on our way toward spring.

Soon after Christmas the 1949 seed catalogues will begin to appear, and then a lot of fireside gardening and planning will begin. All that "hot stove" gardening seems to help bring spring nearer and nearer.

● MERRY CHRISTMAS

Just a couple of days until Christmas and the editor of Tales of the Street takes this opportunity to wish all our readers a merry, merry Christmas and the happiest kind of a new year.

May 1949 be for everyone a year of prosperity, happiness and contentment. We're not sore at anybody or anything, not even the parking meters.

Apparently Bobby Speers (left) has heard of "gas station cowboys" too, for he ordered a cowboy suit and a gas station from Santa.

Three year old Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Speers, 932 Highland, Arlington Heights. He has two sisters, Jane, 11, who is in the sixth grade, North school and Judith, 6, a first grader. Jane is a former girl scout who could not continue in the scout program because of a shortage of scout leaders.

Bobby has blond hair and blue eyes.

CHILDREN of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Freise, 1004 Highland, Arlington Heights, Carol Jean and Roger Freise (center) are great company for each other. Carol Jean, 7, is in second grade at Lutheran school. Roger, 4½, isn't quite old enough to attend and is very lonesome when Carol is at school. Both children have brown hair and blue eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schoebeck, Buffalo Grove road, Arlington Heights, are maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. William Freise, route 1, Palatine are paternal grandparents.

At present, Nancy Kalivoda, 5, (right) is concerned as to how she will move her pet cat, "Gordo," when her family change their residence to Roseburg, Ore., in the near future.

Brown haired and blue eyed Nancy has a sister, Jeanette, 13, who will leave the 8th grade at North school when they move. Nancy attends Methodist church kindergarten.

Whenever one of us made a good shot, they sounded like a real rooting section.

One Northerner who was present said it was the strangest athletic event he'd ever seen. Well, no one, players or rooters, were worrying about civil rights. Everyone was happy and having a good time.

● STILL TIME

There is still time to do that late Christmas shopping and to do it at home.

Local stores still have plenty of things on hand that will make fine, desirable Christmas presents, and chances are you can save on the price and save yourself from being pushed around by big crowds.

Some folks don't seem to feel they have gone Christmas shopping if they don't have the experience of battling big city crowds and coming home all tired out. Why get all tired out? Shop in comfort in your own community. Local merchants will be glad to see you.

● SHORTEST DAYS

The shortest days are here and winter is about to start.

But when those days begin to get a little longer, when it gets light earlier in the morning and stays light later in the evening, it always seems we are "over the hump" and headed for spring.

Sure, there are several months which can give us trouble, plenty of snow, ice, sleet and cold weather, but at least the darkest days are behind us and we're on our way toward spring.

Soon after Christmas the 1949 seed catalogues will begin to appear, and then a lot of fireside gardening and planning will begin. All that "hot stove" gardening seems to help bring spring nearer and nearer.

● MERRY CHRISTMAS

Just a couple of days until Christmas and the editor of Tales of the Street takes this opportunity to wish all our readers a merry, merry Christmas and the happiest kind of a new year. May 1949 be for everyone a year of prosperity, happiness and contentment. We're not sore at anybody or anything, not even the parking meters.

Presenting the younger generation

Apparently Bobby Speers (left) has heard of "gas station cowboys" too, for he ordered a cowboy suit and a gas station from Santa.

Three year old Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Speers, 932 Highland, Arlington Heights. He has two sisters, Jane, 11, who is in the sixth grade, North school and Judith, 6, a first grader. Jane is a former girl scout who could not continue in the scout program because of a shortage of scout leaders.

Bobby has blond hair and blue eyes.

CHILDREN of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Freise, 1004 Highland, Arlington Heights, Carol Jean and Roger Freise (center) are great company for each other. Carol Jean, 7, is in second grade at Lutheran school. Roger, 4½, isn't quite old enough to attend and is very lonesome when Carol is at school. Both children have brown hair and blue eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schoebeck, Buffalo Grove road, Arlington Heights, are maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. William Freise, route 1, Palatine are paternal grandparents.

At present, Nancy Kalivoda, 5, (right) is concerned as to how she will move her pet cat, "Gordo," when her family change their residence to Roseburg, Ore., in the near future.

Brown haired and blue eyed Nancy has a sister, Jeanette, 13, who will leave the 8th grade at North school when they move. Nancy attends Methodist church kindergarten.

Q. What is the proper thing for a young man to say when asking a girl for a dance?

A. Merely say, "May I have this dance?" Or, "Will you dance this with me?" The simpler the request, the better. Such expressions as, "May I have the honor," or, "I should be delighted," are affectations and are out-moded.

Q. Is it necessary for a woman to rise from her chair when acknowledging an introduction.

A. It is not necessary, but it is not out of order and it does indicate a genuine pleasure over the meeting.

Q. On which side of the plate should the spoons be placed on the dinner table?

A. On the right side of the plate.

Q. Should a girl who has been going regularly with a young man for several months before Christmas, give him a gift?

A. This is a matter of personal preference. However, she should wait until he gives her his gift so that if he hasn't one for her, he will not be embarrassed.

Q. If one is offered a dish of food in which there is both a serving spoon and a fork, how should one handle them?

A. Take the spoon in the right hand, the fork in the left.

Q. When a salesman enters an office where women are employed, should he remove his hat?

A. He should remove his hat even if there are no women employees present.

Q. What is the maximum time before a bride should write "Thank you" letters for her wedding gifts?

A. These letters must be written within a month, and really should be written from day to day as the gifts are received.

Q. What is the proper way to remove seeds of grapes from the mouth when eating them at the table?

A. It is permissible to drop the seeds into the cupped hand and place them on the plate.

Q. Is it all right for a girl to invite her escort into her home after returning late at night from some party, dance, or the theater?

A. According to rules of etiquette, she should not do so.

Bits o' business

Retailing slump continues to worry merchants and grab the interest of business observers and economists. Some experts think slump is largely due to warm weather, others believe causes to be more basic. Meanwhile, a most significant item comes to light: people are again buying savings bonds. For the last six months, people have bought $400 million more savings bonds than were redeemed. Total sales this year will exceed $4 billion. So while goods may be slow moving across the counters, there is still evidence that the people's purchasing power is unimpaired. This is confirmed by the Department of Commerce which says that personal income is still rising and the amount available for spending higher. Farm income, says the department, is off from its mid-year peak, but still far above 1947. Retailers, therefore, can take heart. Their customers can buy goods if offered the proper merchandising inducements.

Christmas by any other name is still Christmas all over the world

On calendars in most lands, December 25 is a red—and green—letter day. From Paris to Peiping, and from Stockholm to Sydney, Christian people of all nationalities celebrate the anniversary of the birth of Christ.

The holiday isn't always called Christmas, and many countries celebrate it on different dates. Even Santa Claus has his name and appearance changed as he circles the globe, and a multitude of Yuletide customs exist in different nations.

How long the Christmas festival has been celebrated is not definitely known. However, according to the World Book Encyclopedia, the holiday was spoken of in the fourth century as a custom of long standing.

In the Scandinavian countries, a Christmas tree, made of a sheaf of wheat bound to a pole, is raised for the winter birds. In Norway an important item on the Christmas menu is a rice pudding, into which is put one almond. The person who finds the almond in his pudding will be the first to get married. A light burning in the windows of Norwegian homes informs travelers they are welcome to food and shelter.

IN CHINA, odd stockings, made by sewing three pieces of muslin together, are hung up on Christmas Eve to hold the gifts brought by Lan Khoong-Khoong, which means "Nice Old Father." The Chinese Santa Claus is also known as Dun Che Lao Ren, or "Christmas Old Man," and their Christmas tree is called the "Tree of Light." Early morning carolers sing Chinese words to such old favorites as "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

An important part of the Christmas season in Guatemala, Honduras and Mexico is the pinata, a brightly decorated jar of sweets hung by a cord from the branch of a tree. The children are given long sticks, and each child gets a chance to break the pinata, and release the stored candies.

Christmas in Australia occurs during the summer season, and the extreme heat often discourages a great deal of Christmas spirit.

Record 708,000 tons phosphate used last year

Illinois farmers applied a record 708,000 tons of rock phosphate in 1947 and did an outstanding job of liming their acid land. But they made little headway against the serious potassium shortage in some parts of the state, mainly because of shortages of potash fertilizers.

That's the summary of Clyde M. Linsley, soils specialist, University of Illinois agricultural extension service.

"More than 7,000,000 acres of land were tested during 1947 in the 68 county soils laboratories," Linsley said. "This testing has played an important part in the greater use of rock phosphate and limestone and the stronger demand for potash."

THESE THREE plant foods are only part of the soil improvement program," Linsley went on. "They put the soil in good condition to grow legumes, and legumes provide organic matter and nitrogen, maintain good tilth, and control erosion."

The 708,000 tons of rock phosphate—210,000 tons more than 1946—was enough to build back the phosphorus supply on about 1,400,000 acres of farm land at the rate of about 1,000 pounds an acre. It will last for 10 years or more and provide a reserve to carry farmers over the years when they may not be able to buy phosphate.

Since 1943, Linsley said, 1,805,000 tons of rock phosphate have been spread on low-phosphorus farm lands. This is enough to cover about 3,600,000 acres of the 20,000,000 acres needing phosphorus.

AS FOR LIME, Illinois farmers used more than 5,000,000 tons in 1946 and again in 1947.

"They're now beginning to tackle the phosphate problem," Linsley stated.

Only a little over 9,000 tons of potash salts, mainly muriate of potash, were used in 1947, Linsley noted. Most of the potash supply has gone into mixed fertilizers.

No Longer Necessary for Farmer To Outshout Storm to Be Heard

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Farmers whose throats grow sore (and whose doesn't) when trying to make themselves heard above the elements during those shouted barn-to-house conversations are in for a pleasant surprise. Agricultural engineers have been eavesdropping on these farm problems. What's more, they have done something about them.

TIME MEANS MONEY — particularly on the farm. And here's one way to save time—an inter-communication system in action.

Out of the laboratories has come electrical communications equipment that makes two-way conversation possible between the house and any part of the farm where connecting speaker stations are located.

The basic system consists of a master station and one speaker. However, four speakers may be used, and they can be placed inside any of the farm buildings or at convenient outdoor locations on the farmstead. Ordinarily it is not even necessary to stop work to converse over the system, for voices can be picked up and transmitted from a distance of thirty feet from the speaker installation.

Another advahtage in the use of the system is that farm women can leave sleeping children in their rooms and go about their work, indoors and out, without worrying over their welfare. The speaker is so sensitive that even the very slight noise made by an infant in breathing can be transmitted from the nursery to any place on the farm where a master station is located.

Power for the system—a step and time saver if ever there was one—is supplied through an ordinary house lighting circuit.

Management is key to higher farm profits

You'd just as soon earn $30 more net profit per acre than your neighbor, wouldn't you?

Well, skillful farm management is the answer, University of Illinois College of Agriculture economists have decided.

A study of about 500 farmers' records in central and eastern Illinois for 1945-47 showed that the 100 most efficient farmers earned about $30 an acre more than the 100 least efficient farmers. All men kept records under the Farm Bureau Farm Management Service project, supervised by the agricultural extension service.

"AT WARTIME prices, the $30 difference in net earnings would pay for the average farm in about 10 years," states M. L. Mosher and J. B. Andrews, extension farm management specialists.

"Most of the differences in earnings were due to differences in management," he added. "Very few were due to size of farm or quality of land."

A field man visits each cooperator and explains where his farm stands in earning power compared with similar farms elsewhere. He points out the strong and weak spots and tells how other farmers have handled their work more efficiently.

SOME MEN find out that a shift in crop acreages will mean larger earnings, Mosher and Andrews said. Others find their crop yields are much lower than those of other farms with the same quality of land. Livestock is bringing much less for the feed fed on some farms than on others. High labor and machinery costs for the amount of work done are holding down earnings on many farms.

LAW on the FARM

Cold storage locker plants

The 1941 session of the Illinois Legislature enacted a law regulating the operation of cold storage locker plants and giving the State Department of Agriculture authority to enforce its provisions. This law defines a locker plant as "a location or establishment in which space in individual lockers is rented to individuals for the storage of food at or below a temperature of 45 degrees above zero Fahrenheit and having a chill room, and sharp freezing facilities and facilities for cutting, preparing, wrapping and packaging meats and meat products, fruits and vegetables." Lockers are defined as "the individual sections or compartments of a capacity of not to exceed 25 cubic feet, in the locker room of a locker plant or branch locker plant."

All operators of such plants, whether cooperative, private, incorporated or otherwise, must procure a license and come under the provisions of the law. Branch locker plants are also included. Briefly stated the requirements of this law are:

1. The license shall be renewed annually and kept prominently displayed in the plant.
2. The department shall make an inspection of locker plants at least once every six months.
3. The floors, walls and ceilings of locker plants shall be so constructed that they can be conveniently maintained in a clean and sanitary condition.
4. Individual lockers shall be so constructed as to protect the contents from contamination, deterioration or injury.
5. All rooms, equipment and utensils shall be kept clean and sanitary.
6. Lockers shall be thoroughly cleaned before they are leased to a patron for his use.
7. No food shall be stored in such condition or in such manner as to cause injury to or deterioration of articles of food in adjacent lockers.
8. An adequate supply of safe water must be always available.
9. Toilets and washroom facilities shall be adequate and sanitary.
10. All employees of locker plant must have a semi-annual health examination, and health certificates must be kept on file by the plant operator.
11. Temperatures specified by law must be maintained for chill rooms, sharp-freeze rooms and locker rooms, and temperature-recording devices must be installed.
12. The operator must inspect, wrap and sharp-freeze food before placing it in any locker.
13. All fresh carcasses must be thoroughly washed and chilled until the body heat is removed.
14. Vegetables must be cleaned, blanched, cooled with cold water and packed in suitable containers before being frozen.
15. Game or fish must be stored or handled in conformity with the Fish Code and Game Code of Illinois. These codes give officers and employees of the State Deyartment of Conservation authority, without a warrant, to enter and examine locker plants and receptacles which they have reason to believe contain fish or game held in illegal possession. The license of the locker plant operator may be revoked for refusing to allow such inspection.
16. Patrons shall be supplied, at their request, with an accurate and complete report showing carcass weights at delivery and quantities wrapped or prepared for various purposes—and also with an accounting for vegetables and fruits received.
17. Food not for human consumption cannot be placed in a locker plant unless it has been inspected and approved by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture.
18. No person shall be permitted access to another patron's locker and its contents without proper authorization. Patrons shall not be permitted to handle meats or foods, other than their own, which are stored in the chill room or are in the process of preparation for freezing for storage.

Locker plants are not "cold storage warehouses" and are not subject to provisions of the Uniform Cold Storage Act. Neither are they "utilities" as defined in the revised cities and village act, nor are they subject ot the Illinois Safety Deposit Box Act.

The laws referred to may be found in the Illinois Revised Statutes, chapter 24, section 41-1; chapter 56, section 150; chapter 56½ sections 80, 93.1—93.20; chapter 61, section 143 and chapter 114, section 336.

Further information may be procured from the State Department of Agriculture, Springfield.

Winter rations given steer calves

Feeding good roughage rations will add many pounds of weight to your steer calves this winter, says C. A. Hughes, Cook county farm adviser.

If you have corn silage, probably the best ration is 22 to 25 pounds of corn silage, 1 pound of soybean or cottonseed meal, and about 2 1/3 pounds of good legume hay per head per day, according to tests by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

This silage and supplement should be divided into equal feeds for twice-a-day feeding, with the protein supplement sprinkled on the silage. The hay may be fed after either feed of silage or in the middle of the day.

In addition to guard against a calcium deficiency, each steer should receive one-tenth of a pound of fine ground limestone per day, fed on the silage. Steer calves weighing 400 to 450 pounds at the start have regularly gained 1.3 pounds per head per day on this ration, says H. G. Russell, extension livestock specialist.

If you don't have silage, Russell suggests feeding four pounds of shelled corn or the equivalent per head per day and all the good-quality legume hay the calves will eat. Calves wintered on this ration usually gain 1.25 pounds per head per day.

Greetings For The NEW YEAR

The beginning of another year is with us. The Old Year with its Joys, Sorrows, Successes and Failures is in the past.

We are born and sojourn here for a time. A new year is ushered in and its span of life is run. Associations are formed, beautiful friendships, and then comes the parting, the passing on, and the coming of the new. So it is with life. We are born, and in the Springtime we plan and build for the future. Then comes the Summer of life, when we are watching the beauty that surrounds us, wondering if the harvest will be all that we hope for; then the afternoon of life, or in other words, the Autumn, when our fondest hopes are realized or shattered. We cannot go back and plant anew; we must harvest what we have sown, and by that harvest we will be judged. And then comes the evening of life, or Winter, when we look back over a profitable life, and review, just as we do today, the things that have taken place—the worthwhile and the failures. And by this record we will be measured.

So the year ends, just as a life ends. A year seems short; a life is short, and we must crowd a lot into that life if we expect to leave for posterity something that will make the world a little better. If we are going to leave behind pleasant memories, we must of necessity render some service to humanity.

It is our Sincere Wish that the Happiness and Joy which has been yours in the past be Expanded and Multiplied in the future; and the Hope that the Good Will and Friendship existing between us be so Strengthened and Cemented that the artisan with his strongest tools, cannot even chip the surface thereof; that the New Year may come to you laden with Blessings and Prosperity, and that the Future may hold for You and Yours Many Happy Years without Disappointments or Sorrows, and as this Year fades into its own past that all its memories will add Cheer and Comfort to your life.

Sincerely,

Pape and Guenther Bros.

Record 708,000 tons phosphate used last year

Illinois farmers applied a record 708,000 tons of rock phosphate in 1947 and did an outstanding job of liming their acid land. But they made little headway against the serious potassium shortage in some parts of the state, mainly because of shortages of potash fertilizers.

That's the summary of Clyde M. Linsley, soils specialist, University of Illinois agricultural extension service.

"More than 7,000,000 acres of land were tested during 1947 in the 68 county soils laboratories," Linsley said. "This testing has played an important part in the greater use of rock phosphate and limestone and the stronger demand for potash."

THESE THREE plant foods are only part of the soil improvement program," Linsley went on. "They put the soil in good condition to grow legumes, and legumes provide organic matter and nitrogen, maintain good tilth, and control erosion."

The 708,000 tons of rock phosphate—210,000 tons more than 1946—was enough to build back the phosphorus supply on about 1,400,000 acres of farm land at the rate of about 1,000 pounds an acre. It will last for 10 years or more and provide a reserve to carry farmers over the years when they may not be able to buy phosphate.

Since 1943, Linsley said, 1,805,000 tons of rock phosphate have been spread on low-phosphorus farm lands. This is enough to cover about 3,600,000 acres of the 20,000,000 acres needing phosphorus.

AS FOR LIME, Illinois farmers used more than 5,000,000 tons in 1946 and again in 1947.

"They're now beginning to tackle the phosphate problem," Linsley stated.

Only a little over 9,000 tons of potash salts, mainly muriate of potash, were used in 1947, Linsley noted. Most of the potash supply has gone into mixed fertilizers.

No Longer Necessary for Farmer To Outshout Storm to Be Heard

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Farmers whose throats grow sore (and whose doesn't) when trying to make themselves heard above the elements during those shouted barn-to-house conversations are in for a pleasant surprise. Agricultural engineers have been eavesdropping on these farm problems. What's more, they have done something about them.

TIME MEANS MONEY — particularly on the farm. And here's one way to save time—an inter-communication system in action.

Out of the laboratories has come electrical communications equipment that makes two-way conversation possible between the house and any part of the farm where connecting speaker stations are located.

The basic system consists of a master station and one speaker. However, four speakers may be used, and they can be placed inside any of the farm buildings or at convenient outdoor locations on the farmstead. Ordinarily it is not even necessary to stop work to converse over the system, for voices can be picked up and transmitted from a distance of thirty feet from the speaker installation.

Another advahtage in the use of the system is that farm women can leave sleeping children in their rooms and go about their work, indoors and out, without worrying over their welfare. The speaker is so sensitive that even the very slight noise made by an infant in breathing can be transmitted from the nursery to any place on the farm where a master station is located.

Power for the system—a step and time saver if ever there was one—is supplied through an ordinary house lighting circuit.

Management is key to higher farm profits

You'd just as soon earn $30 more net profit per acre than your neighbor, wouldn't you?

Well, skillful farm management is the answer, University of Illinois College of Agriculture economists have decided.

A study of about 500 farmers' records in central and eastern Illinois for 1945-47 showed that the 100 most efficient farmers earned about $30 an acre more than the 100 least efficient farmers. All men kept records under the Farm Bureau Farm Management Service project, supervised by the agricultural extension service.

"AT WARTIME prices, the $30 difference in net earnings would pay for the average farm in about 10 years," states M. L. Mosher and J. B. Andrews, extension farm management specialists.

"Most of the differences in earnings were due to differences in management," he added. "Very few were due to size of farm or quality of land."

A field man visits each cooperator and explains where his farm stands in earning power compared with similar farms elsewhere. He points out the strong and weak spots and tells how other farmers have handled their work more efficiently.

SOME MEN find out that a shift in crop acreages will mean larger earnings, Mosher and Andrews said. Others find their crop yields are much lower than those of other farms with the same quality of land. Livestock is bringing much less for the feed fed on some farms than on others. High labor and machinery costs for the amount of work done are holding down earnings on many farms.

Whatever the cause, each record-keeper learns the major sources of high or low earnings on his farm.

LAW on the FARM

Cold storage locker plants

The 1941 session of the Illinois Legislature enacted a law regulating the operation of cold storage locker plants and giving the State Department of Agriculture authority to enforce its provisions. This law defines a locker plant as "a location or establishment in which space in individual lockers is rented to individuals for the storage of food at or below a temperature of 45 degrees above zero Fahrenheit and having a chill room, and sharp freezing facilities and facilities for cutting, preparing, wrapping and packaging meats and meat products, fruits and vegetables." Lockers are defined as "the individual sections or compartments of a capacity of not to exceed 25 cubic feet, in the locker room of a locker plant or branch locker plant."

All operators of such plants, whether cooperative, private, incorporated or otherwise, must procure a license and come under the provisions of the law. Branch locker plants are also included. Briefly stated the requirements of this law are:

1. The license shall be renewed annually and kept prominently displayed in the plant.
2. The department shall make an inspection of locker plants at least once every six months.
3. The floors, walls and ceilings of locker plants shall be so constructed that they can be conveniently maintained in a clean and sanitary condition.
4. Individual lockers shall be so constructed as to protect the contents from contamination, deterioration or injury.
5. All rooms, equipment and utensils shall be kept clean and sanitary.
6. Lockers shall be thoroughly cleaned before they are leased to a patron for his use.
7. No food shall be stored in such condition or in such manner as to cause injury to or deterioration of articles of food in adjacent lockers.
8. An adequate supply of safe water must be always available.
9. Toilets and washroom facilities shall be adequate and sanitary.
10. All employees of locker plant must have a semi-annual health examination, and health certificates must be kept on file by the plant operator.
11. Temperatures specified by law must be maintained for chill rooms, sharp-freeze rooms and locker rooms, and temperature-recording devices must be installed.
12. The operator must inspect, wrap and sharp-freeze food before placing it in any locker.
13. All fresh carcasses must be thoroughly washed and chilled until the body heat is removed.
14. Vegetables must be cleaned, blanched, cooled with cold water and packed in suitable containers before being frozen.
15. Game or fish must be stored or handled in conformity with the Fish Code and Game Code of Illinois. These codes give officers and employees of the State Deyartment of Conservation authority, without a warrant, to enter and examine locker plants and receptacles which they have reason to believe contain fish or game held in illegal possession. The license of the locker plant operator may be revoked for refusing to allow such inspection.
16. Patrons shall be supplied, at their request, with an accurate and complete report showing carcass weights at delivery and quantities wrapped or prepared for various purposes—and also with an accounting for vegetables and fruits received.
17. Food not for human consumption cannot be placed in a locker plant unless it has been inspected and approved by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture.
18. No person shall be permitted access to another patron's locker and its contents without proper authorization. Patrons shall not be permitted to handle meats or foods, other than their own, which are stored in the chill room or are in the process of preparation for freezing for storage.

Locker plants are not "cold storage warehouses" and are not subject to provisions of the Uniform Cold Storage Act. Neither are they "utilities" as defined in the revised cities and village act, nor are they subject ot the Illinois Safety Deposit Box Act.

The laws referred to may be found in the Illinois Revised Statutes, chapter 24, section 41-1; chapter 56, section 150; chapter 56½ sections 80, 93.1—93.20; chapter 61, section 143 and chapter 114, section 336.

Winter rations given steer calves

Feeding good roughage rations will add many pounds of weight to your steer calves this winter, says C. A. Hughes, Cook county farm adviser.

If you have corn silage, probably the best ration is 22 to 25 pounds of corn silage, 1 pound of soybean or cottonseed meal, and about 2 1/3 pounds of good legume hay per head per day, according to tests by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

This silage and supplement should be divided into equal feeds for twice-a-day feeding, with the protein supplement sprinkled on the silage. The hay may be fed after either feed of silage or in the middle of the day.

In addition to guard against a calcium deficiency, each steer should receive one-tenth of a pound of fine ground limestone per day, fed on the silage. Steer calves weighing 400 to 450 pounds at the start have regularly gained 1.3 pounds per head per day on this ration, says H. G. Russell, extension livestock specialist.

If you don't have silage, Russell suggests feeding four pounds of shelled corn or the equivalent per head per day and all the good-quality legume hay the calves will eat. Calves wintered on this ration usually gain 1.25 pounds per head per day.

Greetings For The NEW YEAR

The beginning of another year is with us. The Old Year with its Joys, Sorrows, Successes and Failures is in the past.

We are born and sojourn here for a time. A new year is ushered in and its span of life is run. Associations are formed, beautiful friendships, and then comes the parting, the passing on, and the coming of the new. So it is with life. We are born, and in the Springtime we plan and build for the future. Then comes the Summer of life, when we are watching the beauty that surrounds us, wondering if the harvest will be all that we hope for; then the afternoon of life, or in other words, the Autumn, when our fondest hopes are realized or shattered. We cannot go back and plant anew; we must harvest what we have sown, and by that harvest we will be judged. And then comes the evening of life, or Winter, when we look back over a profitable life, and review, just as we do today, the things that have taken place—the worthwhile and the failures. And by this record we will be measured.

So the year ends, just as a life ends. A year seems short; a life is short, and we must crowd a lot into that life if we expect to leave for posterity something that will make the world a little better. If we are going to leave behind pleasant memories, we must of necessity render some service to humanity.

It is our Sincere Wish that the Happiness and Joy which has been yours in the past be Expanded and Multiplied in the future; and the Hope that the Good Will and Friendship existing between us be so Strengthened and Cemented that the artisan with his strongest tools, cannot even chip the surface thereof; that the New Year may come to you laden with Blessings and Prosperity, and that the Future may hold for You and Yours Many Happy Years without Disappointments or Sorrows, and as this Year fades into its own past that all its memories will add Cheer and Comfort to your life.

To conduct school for custom spray operators in Jan.

There will be a training school for custom spray operators by the Illinois Natural History Survey people January 12-14. The first day's program will be devoted entirely to subjects of interest to ground sprayers. The second day's program will deal with questions affecting both aerial and ground applicators. The third day will be devoted to programs of the aerial applicator.

Subjects that will be included will be fly control; commercial whitewash coatings with DDT; recent research results on fly control; weed identification; weedicides—new and old; where, when and how to use 2,4-D—its limitations and hazards; disease and insect control for home orchards; disease and insect control on shade trees and shrubs; corn borer control; grasshopper control; clover insect control and seed production; new insecticides—their uses and limitations and types of materials to use; other aerial application topics; types of nozzles; and an exhibit of some ground sprayers and equipment.

WE BELIEVE this is a well worth while school for those who expect to operate custom sprays or for those who operate their own equipment.

"Anyone interested," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, "should write H. B. Petty, Extension Specialist in Entomology, Illinois Natural History Resources Building, Urbana, Illinois."

Vets must apply now for certificates for training and school

Veterans who plan to attend school or begin training under the GI bill early in 1949 are urged by Robert D. Beer, manager of the Chicago regional VA office, to apply for certificates of eligibility at once.

It is the aim of VA to process applications for certificates of eligibility and supplemental letters of eligibility in 30 days, but because of the increased demand just prior to the beginning of a new semester this has not always been possible. The result is delay in entry into school and delayed payment of subsistence allowance.

Veterans holding certificates of eligibility issued prior to last September 1 should exchange them at once for a new type certificate. The exchange may be accomplished in person or by mail.

After January 1 a veteran seeking to enroll in school with an old certificate must wait until his entitlement to training is verified before tuition and subsistence allowance may be paid. A claim number also must be assigned and an initial index record established.

Veterans who never have applied for a certificate of eligibility for education nor received a claim number should seek a certificate from the VA regional office in the state where the school of their choice is located, if outside Illinois or Lake, Porter and LaPorte counties in Indiana.

Veterans who have claim numbers and now seek certificates should apply to the regional office which has their case folder and if going to school in another state should request transfer of their folder to that state.

Civil service examinations

The Civil Service Commission announced the following examinations: Substitute Railway Postal Clerk, Student Nurse, and Veterinarian.

The Substitute Railway Postal Clerk examination is open only to persons entitled to veteran preference and to non-veterans who have served in the position of substitute railway postal clerk since August 28, 1947, under appointments not limited to 1 year or less.

Student nurses at St. Elizabeths hospital, one of the nation's outstanding psychiatric hospitals, receive $752 for the 3 year training course, plus quarters, subsistence, laundry, and medical attention.

The veterinarian positions to be filled pay $3,727 a year and are located in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States. Most of the vacancies are in the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture.

Persons applying for the Substitute Railway Postal Clerk examination mut have their applications on file with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than January 4, 1949, and for Student Nurse, not later than January 25, 1949. Applications for the Veterinarian examination will be accepted until further notice.

Further information and application forms may be secured from Civil Service regional offices, or from the Commission's central office in Washington, D.C.

Olympic Games

Modern Olympics, reviving the very ancient games, date from 1896 at Athens. The 14th Olympiad takes its number from the fact that 1948 is the 14th quadrennial year when 1896 is taken as the first. The 6th Olympiad, scheduled for Berlin in 1916, was cancelled because of World War I. The 12th, 1940, originally scheduled for Tokio, was reassigned to Helsinki, Finland, and later cancelled because of war.

Word study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Sequestered; secluded; isolated. "Along the cool, sequestered vale of life." — Gray.

Assumption; the act of taking for granted without proof. "You ask me to accept this unwarrantable assumption."

Adversity; a state or adverse fortune; misfortune. "Adversity is not without comforts and hopes." — Bacon.

Defile; to make foul; pollute; to corrupt the chastity of. "They that touch pitch will be defiled." — Shakespeare.

Fixation: act of fiving: state of being fixed. "An unalterable fixation of resolution." — Killingbeck.

Acclamation: a shout of approbation; eager expression of approval; loud applause. "A holiday has been voted by acclamation."

To conduct school for custom spray operators in Jan.

There will be a training school for custom spray operators by the Illinois Natural History Survey people January 12-14. The first day's program will be devoted entirely to subjects of interest to ground sprayers. The second day's program will deal with questions affecting both aerial and ground applicators. The third day will be devoted to programs of the aerial applicator.

Subjects that will be included will be fly control; commercial whitewash coatings with DDT; recent research results on fly control; weed identification; weedicides—new and old; where, when and how to use 2,4-D—its limitations and hazards; disease and insect control for home orchards; disease and insect control on shade trees and shrubs; corn borer control; grasshopper control; clover insect control and seed production; new insecticides—their uses and limitations and types of materials to use; other aerial application topics; types of nozzles; and an exhibit of some ground sprayers and equipment.

WE BELIEVE this is a well worth while school for those who expect to operate custom sprays or for those who operate their own equipment.

"Anyone interested," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, "should write H. B. Petty, Extension Specialist in Entomology, Illinois Natural History Resources Building, Urbana, Illinois."

CHOOSE COLOR THEME

CHICAGO — Electric blue was chosen as the theme wardrobe color for a woman with ash blonde hair, blue eyes and fair complexion by State Street Fashion bureau experts. To further enhance this combination of bright blue hostess pajamas and blonde personal coloring, fashion experts suggested geranium red as the best background color for a "hostess chair" to bring out the highlights in her hair and the blue of her eyes.

Record cow

Florem Peerless Lucy, registered Holstein-Friesian cow, owned by Ray E. Meyer, Roselle, has completed a 365-day production test of 695 pounds of butterfat and 17,263 pounds of milk in Herd Improvement Registry.

Testing was supervised by the University of Illinois, in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

"Lucy" was milked twice daily and was 6 years of age when she began her test period.

Vets must apply now for certificates for training and school

Veterans who plan to attend school or begin training under the GI bill early in 1949 are urged by Robert D. Beer, manager of the Chicago regional VA office, to apply for certificates of eligibility at once.

It is the aim of VA to process applications for certificates of eligibility and supplemental letters of eligibility in 30 days, but because of the increased demand just prior to the beginning of a new semester this has not always been possible. The result is delay in entry into school and delayed payment of subsistence allowance.

Veterans holding certificates of eligibility issued prior to last September 1 should exchange them at once for a new type certificate. The exchange may be accomplished in person or by mail.

After January 1 a veteran seeking to enroll in school with an old certificate must wait until his entitlement to training is verified before tuition and subsistence allowance may be paid. A claim number also must be assigned and an initial index record established.

Veterans who never have applied for a certificate of eligibility for education nor received a claim number should seek a certificate from the VA regional office in the state where the school of their choice is located, if outside Illinois or Lake, Porter and LaPorte counties in Indiana.

Veterans who have claim numbers and now seek certificates should apply to the regional office which has their case folder and if going to school in another state should request transfer of their folder to that state.

Civil service examinations

The Civil Service Commission announced the following examinations: Substitute Railway Postal Clerk, Student Nurse, and Veterinarian.

The Substitute Railway Postal Clerk examination is open only to persons entitled to veteran preference and to non-veterans who have served in the position of substitute railway postal clerk since August 28, 1947, under appointments not limited to 1 year or less.

Student nurses at St. Elizabeths hospital, one of the nation's outstanding psychiatric hospitals, receive $752 for the 3 year training course, plus quarters, subsistence, laundry, and medical attention.

The veterinarian positions to be filled pay $3,727 a year and are located in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States. Most of the vacancies are in the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture.

Persons applying for the Substitute Railway Postal Clerk examination mut have their applications on file with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than January 4, 1949, and for Student Nurse, not later than January 25, 1949. Applications for the Veterinarian examination will be accepted until further notice.

Further information and application forms may be secured from Civil Service regional offices, or from the Commission's central office in Washington, D.C.

Olympic Games

Modern Olympics, reviving the very ancient games, date from 1896 at Athens. The 14th Olympiad takes its number from the fact that 1948 is the 14th quadrennial year when 1896 is taken as the first. The 6th Olympiad, scheduled for Berlin in 1916, was cancelled because of World War I. The 12th, 1940, originally scheduled for Tokio, was reassigned to Helsinki, Finland, and later cancelled because of war.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

As I go along my route, I often wonder about the way man is made. It has always seemed to me that he is incomplete, from a posterior point of view. Nature has provided almost every other mammal with a decorative, appealing appendage. Why, then, was man left in such an unfinished condition, deprived of the convenience and pride which go with the possession of a beautiful and useful tail?

Tails would be useful to man in many ways. Consider the woman shopper, slopping homeward through the rain, burdened with bundles and sacks of groceries. What a convenience a long and useful tail would be! With her umbrella held gracefully over her head by her tail, she would be protected from both rain and pneumonia. Again, when she took the children on a shopping tour, she could move contentedly about the store, confident that as long as she could feel her little ones clutching her tail they were safe and out of mischief. No frenzied searching, no constant twisting about, just the constant, reassuring pressure of their dear little hands upon her tail. Meantime her hands would be free to examine her perspective purchases.

To the strap hangers on street cars and elevated trains, a slender, muscular tail would be a life saver. When bunions and corns are screaming for relief, or arches are aching, a graceful flip of the tail over a strap rod and the weary traveller could rest blissfully, suspended like an opossum from the limb of a tree.

The big bushy type of tail would be as decorative as an ostrich feather, and though not so useful as the slender type, would certainly enhance the beauty of man or woman. How thrilling it would be to watch a group of bobby soxers cavorting playfully to school, their tails swishing coquettishly behind them! How lovely a group of club women would look, strolling sedately to their meeting, each carrying her purse on the end of her beautifully groomed tail!

Then there is the boon to business. Tail dressing parlors would open up over night, and tails of all types variously dyed in rainbow colors and groomed in the very latest styles.

Yes, the dignity, beauty and usefulness of man has been greatly curtailed because of the absence of our caudate features, business has lost golden opportunities, our personalities frustrated and abashed. How different our lives might have been, had we only been granted by a bountiful Nature this one added convenience!

Your weekly treat recipe

Plum pudding has always been a tradition during the holiday season. Sharing a recipe with you that has been handed down through the generations in our family is a joy. It may be prepared in advance and stored until that eventful day. Prior to serving, it may be heated in a moderate oven or steamed—then add your hard sauce and serve.

Plum Pudding

½ cup cream
1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup raisins
1 cup currants
1 cup chopped pecans
1 cup suet, ground
1 cup all purpose flour
1 tsp. double acting baking powder
1 tsp. nutmeg
¾ tsp cloves
½ tsp. salt
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup molasses

Method: Sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices together. Mix suet, bread crumbs, fruits and nuts and add to flour mixture. Beat eggs—add sugar, molasses and cream. Combine all together and add vanilla. Mix well. Steam for 3 hours. Serve with or without hard sauce.

"Super" Hard Sauce

1/3 cup butter
1½ cups confectioners sugar, firmly packed
Pinch salt
½ tsp. rum flavoring
3 tbsps egg nog

Method: Mix all together and serve on warm plum pudding.

Oregon's State Parks

Oregon's territorial centennial visitors during 1948 have a choice of visiting more than 160 state park areas, making up what is credited with being one of the most extensive state park systems in the nation. Located in every section of the state, they offer choice seascapes, high waterfalls, deep forests and scenery of unsurpassed appeal. These areas are operated without entrance fees.

Cars slide onto tracks in Des Plaines; one hit by train

Tuesday evening of last week was a jinx time for the motorists who traveled at the corner of Des Plaines avenue and Ellinwood street in Des Plaines. Two cars were damaged as they skidded from the highway onto the train tracks when the drivers were confused by the misty, rainy weather.

First accident occurred at 5:37 p. m. when Mrs. J. A. Luke, 210 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights, age 30, was driving from the C. & N. W. depot east on Miner street. She turned south on Des Plains ave. and in an effort to turn back west on Ellinwood street missed the turn and ended up on the railroad center track facing west.

An east bound train stopped for the car and the crew then flagged down the west bound train. With both trains stopped the crews helped free the car from the rails and police chief H. A Becker drove the car off the tracks. It was undamaged.

At 7:15 p. m. Charles E. Smith, 503 5th avenue, Des Plaines, was driving east on Ellinwood and when he turned north on Des Plaines avenue he ran off onto the railroad tracks to the east of the road. His car was horizontal to the tracks when it stopped. An oncoming train ran into the car. It was taken to Bud's Service Station. There were no injuries in either accident.

Protein for Industrial Workers

According to a New York state nutrition survey, most men industrial workers have all the protein they need daily, while less than half of the women do.

Expect 15 fatalities Christmas weekend

Chicago and Cook county's contribution to the Illinois traffic toll during the three-day Christmas holiday will total 15 fatalities and 525 serious injuries, Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, predicts on the basis of a study of accident experience over the past 10 years.

The anticipated holiday massacre can be improved by as much as 50 per cent if bad weather intervenes to force motorists and pedestrians to use streets and highways with extreme caution, Mr. Hayes continued.

Three thousand traffic accidents will involve property damage of $25 or more while 50 persons of the 525 who will be injured will suffer permanent injuries ranging from loss of an eye to both legs.

Half of Cook county's fatalities will be pedestrians if the normal trend prevails which makes December and January the two most dangerous months for the pedestrian.

Hundreds of Improvements including 7.8 to 1 compression ratio engine!

Come in today and see the new Crosley—a triumph of American design. It's big! It's smart. It's today's best buy! The new Crosley is truly a fine car, inside and out. So gracefully styled it's a picture of motion. So richly appointed that you'll wonder how Crosley can put such luxury interiors in such a moderately priced car. The new Crosley is exciting—roomy, easy-riding, as lively as it looks.

And now Crosley, the leader in high compression, gives you an engine with 7.8 to 1 compression ratio. That means even more power, better hill climbing and greater economy — up to 50 miles on a gallon of regular gasoline.

● You can own a new Crosley for the price of an 8-year-old, high-upkeep used car! Come in — see the brilliant styling, the luxury details of all new Crosley models.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

As I go along my route, I often wonder about the way man is made. It has always seemed to me that he is incomplete, from a posterior point of view. Nature has provided almost every other mammal with a decorative, appealing appendage. Why, then, was man left in such an unfinished condition, deprived of the convenience and pride which go with the possession of a beautiful and useful tail?

Tails would be useful to man in many ways. Consider the woman shopper, slopping homeward through the rain, burdened with bundles and sacks of groceries. What a convenience a long and useful tail would be! With her umbrella held gracefully over her head by her tail, she would be protected from both rain and pneumonia. Again, when she took the children on a shopping tour, she could move contentedly about the store, confident that as long as she could feel her little ones clutching her tail they were safe and out of mischief. No frenzied searching, no constant twisting about, just the constant, reassuring pressure of their dear little hands upon her tail. Meantime her hands would be free to examine her perspective purchases.

To the strap hangers on street cars and elevated trains, a slender, muscular tail would be a life saver. When bunions and corns are screaming for relief, or arches are aching, a graceful flip of the tail over a strap rod and the weary traveller could rest blissfully, suspended like an opossum from the limb of a tree.

The big bushy type of tail would be as decorative as an ostrich feather, and though not so useful as the slender type, would certainly enhance the beauty of man or woman. How thrilling it would be to watch a group of bobby soxers cavorting playfully to school, their tails swishing coquettishly behind them! How lovely a group of club women would look, strolling sedately to their meeting, each carrying her purse on the end of her beautifully groomed tail!

Then there is the boon to business. Tail dressing parlors would open up over night, and tails of all types variously dyed in rainbow colors and groomed in the very latest styles.

Yes, the dignity, beauty and usefulness of man has been greatly curtailed because of the absence of our caudate features, business has lost golden opportunities, our personalities frustrated and abashed. How different our lives might have been, had we only been granted by a bountiful Nature this one added convenience!

Your weekly treat recipe

Plum pudding has always been a tradition during the holiday season. Sharing a recipe with you that has been handed down through the generations in our family is a joy. It may be prepared in advance and stored until that eventful day. Prior to serving, it may be heated in a moderate oven or steamed—then add your hard sauce and serve.

Plum Pudding

4 eggs
½ cup cream
1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup raisins
1 cup currants
1 cup chopped pecans
1 cup suet, ground
1 cup all purpose flour
1 tsp. double acting baking powder
1 tsp. nutmeg
¾ tsp cloves
½ tsp. salt
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup molasses

Method: Sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices together. Mix suet, bread crumbs, fruits and nuts and add to flour mixture. Beat eggs—add sugar, molasses and cream. Combine all together and add vanilla. Mix well. Steam for 3 hours. Serve with or without hard sauce.

"Super" Hard Sauce

1/3 cup butter
1½ cups confectioners sugar, firmly packed
Pinch salt
½ tsp. rum flavoring
3 tbsps egg nog

Method: Mix all together and serve on warm plum pudding.

Oregon's State Parks

Oregon's territorial centennial visitors during 1948 have a choice of visiting more than 160 state park areas, making up what is credited with being one of the most extensive state park systems in the nation. Located in every section of the state, they offer choice seascapes, high waterfalls, deep forests and scenery of unsurpassed appeal. These areas are operated without entrance fees.

Cars slide onto tracks in Des Plaines; one hit by train

Tuesday evening of last week was a jinx time for the motorists who traveled at the corner of Des Plaines avenue and Ellinwood street in Des Plaines. Two cars were damaged as they skidded from the highway onto the train tracks when the drivers were confused by the misty, rainy weather.

First accident occurred at 5:37 p. m. when Mrs. J. A. Luke, 210 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights, age 30, was driving from the C. & N. W. depot east on Miner street. She turned south on Des Plains ave. and in an effort to turn back west on Ellinwood street missed the turn and ended up on the railroad center track facing west.

An east bound train stopped for the car and the crew then flagged down the west bound train. With both trains stopped the crews helped free the car from the rails and police chief H. .A Becker drove the car off the tracks. It was undamaged.

At 7:15 p. m. Charles E. Smith, 503 5th avenue, Des Plaines, was driving east on Ellinwood and when he turned north on Des Plaines avenue he ran off onto the railroad tracks to the east of the road. His car was horizontal to the tracks when it stopped. An oncoming train ran into the car. It was taken to Bud's Service Station. There were no injuries in either accident.

Protein for Industrial Workers

According to a New York state nutrition survey, most men industrial workers have all the protein they need daily, while less than half of the women do.

Expect 15 fatalities Christmas weekend

Chicago and Cook county's contribution to the Illinois traffic toll during the three-day Christmas holiday will total 15 fatalities and 525 serious injuries, Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, predicts on the basis of a study of accident experience over the past 10 years.

The anticipated holiday massacre can be improved by as much as 50 per cent if bad weather intervenes to force motorists and pedestrians to use streets and highways with extreme caution, Mr. Hayes continued.

Three thousand traffic accidents will involve property damage of $25 or more while 50 persons of the 525 who will be injured will suffer permanent injuries ranging from loss of an eye to both legs.

Half of Cook county's fatalities will be pedestrians if the normal trend prevails which makes December and January the two most dangerous months for the pedestrian.
